1982 ALUMNI ANNUAL FUND BREAKS ALL RECORDS

For the second year in a row, the Alumni Fund Drive has shown dramatic increases in both total income and in percentage of participation among donors. Mal Lavery, director of alumni affairs, said this week that income for the 1982 fund drive totalled $44,204, up $14,554 (49%) from the total received last year. Gifts were received from 1,576 alumni, an increase of 51% over last year. Eighteen alumni became members of the President's Club by contributing at least $500, seven became President's Associates through gifts of $250 to $499, and 108 joined the Century Club by donating at least $100.

Lavery said one of the primary reasons for the record-breaking totals was the fall phonathon, which was conducted on 17 evenings by 27 student volunteers. Lavery credited Jim DeLuca, a senior business management major from Shoreham, N.Y., with much of the success. DeLuca served as a intern for the Alumni Office and recruited, trained and scheduled the volunteer callers. Lavery thanked WCFE and the Harris Corporation for allowing the Alumni Association to use their telephone facilities.

Lavery also announced a precedent-setting gift by the Class of 1962, which, on the occasion of its 20th reunion last fall, created as a class gift, a scholarship endowment fund. From the initial gift of $5,000 the fund has already grown by $2,845 from donations by 43 members of that class.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT AWARDS GRANTS TO FAIRWEATHER, HUNKINS, KISSNER

For the fourth consecutive year, SUNY Plattsburgh faculty have been awarded grants under the Government of Canada's Faculty Enrichment Grant Program for the development of Canadian Studies courses. Dr. Malcolm Fairweather, chairman of the department of geography, received a grant to develop a course entitled "Canadian Transportation"; Dr. Jeanne Kissner, associate director of the Center and assistant professor of foreign language and literature, received a grant for her project on "Women Writers of French Canada"; and Dr. Ralph Hunkins, professor of education, received a grant to develop a course "Education in Canada: Historical Perspectives and Current Issues."

Fairweather

Hunkins

Kissner

All three applicants from SUNY Plattsburgh received awards this year, which is highly unusual, according to Dr. Richard Beach, the Center's director. "Indeed," he said, "during the past four years, eight Plattsburgh faculty have applied for these grants and all eight have received awards, an unprecedented record in the history of the grant program in the United States, both in terms of the total number awarded to one institution and in terms of the proportion of proposals funded (100%)."

Previous grant recipients are: Dr. Philip DeVita, associate professor of anthropology; Dr. Fritz Kissner, associate professor of earth and environmental science; Dr. Edwin Hamblet, professor of foreign languages and literature; Dr. Bruce Butterfield, associate professor of English; and Dr. Martin Lubin, associate professor of political science. All of these faculty members are currently associates of the Center for the Study of Canada and regularly offer Canadian content courses.

EFFORTS TO INCREASE STUDENT RETENTION UNDERWAY

A draft plan to improve retention of currently enrolled students at the college has been prepared and portions of it are being put into effect. Dr. Jerome Supple, vice president for academic affairs, said this week that an executive committee has been formed and will prepare a final plan with which to address the problem of retention. This executive committee consists of two retention coordinators, Dr. Ann Hasting, representing Academic Affairs and Thomas Moran, representing Student Affairs; Diana Green, director of institutional research; David Truax, director of admissions; Dr. Nicholas Troisi, dean of professional studies; Dr. Hounq Liu, acting dean of arts and science; Patrick Lennahan, director of career/life planning and placement; William Laundry, director of campus life; and Thomas Corigliano, coordinator of academic advisement. Jan Edwards, assistant to the president, will act as the group's convener.

Supple said that an initial task of the group will be to form a "retention network," which might include faculty members, residence hall directors, EOP and financial aid directors, and the registrar. The network, under the draft plan, would monitor the college's progress in retention, propose programs and activities to improve retention, and increase the awareness of faculty and staff of retention issues and problems.

Supple said that the college has collected considerable information on retention and attrition, but comprehensive and certain answers to the questions of which students will leave, when, and why are difficult to obtain. However, he added, current trends demand that a plan be formulated and implemented immediately to respond to the issue.

JANUARY ADMISSIONS ON TARGET; FALL APPLICATION RATE GOOD

The January new student enrollment goal has been met and exceeded, according to Admissions Director David Truax. The goal, said Truax, was 300 students, and as of January 9, deposits had been received from 307. Truax added that he expects the final figure will be closer to 350 by the end of the third week when the count is finalized. Compared to last year, he said, deposits as of January 11 were on hand from 300 students, but the third week enrollment total was 353. Thirty-one of the new students are freshmen, 189 are transfer students, 82 are readmits, 10 are new foreign students, and five are visiting students from other institutions. The breakdown is nearly even by sex, 151 males and 156 females.

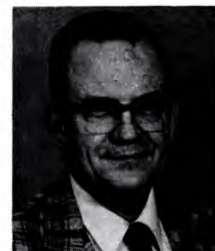

Looking ahead to fall, 1983, Truax is guardedly optimistic. As of January 9, the college had received 3,866 applications, which is a considerable increase from the 3,097 received by that date last year. However, Truax said, it is too early to tell whether that increase is as significant as it looks, or whether the SUNY Central application processing center has shortened its processing time. He added that the 3,866 applications are only about one third of the total the college expects to receive.

GERALD DOMINY FETED FOR 40 YEARS SERVICE TO THE COLLEGE

Gerald Dominy, the college's head maintenance supervisor and the man with the longest term of employment here, was honored last week for 40 years of service. Dominy, who joined the staff at Plattsburgh on January 2, 1943 as a laborer, was presented with an engraved desk set and enjoyed an anniversary cake in the shape of Hawkins Hall. During the reception, President Joseph C. Burke commended Dominy for his devotion to the college, and said, "There are very, very few people who are always willing to put more time and more effort into their job. Gerald Dominy is one of those people."

During his years on the staff, Dominy has held various positions, including janitor, painter, mason-plasterer, maintenance foreman, and senior maintenance supervisor. "I've always had the opportunity to work with many, many students, faculty and staff," he said, "and I've always enjoyed it."

When Dominy was hired, he recalled, the college had 225 students and only one building, Hawkins Hall. With 40 years on the college payroll, Dominy has seen the college grow and change enormously and one of his favorite tasks is speaking to freshman seminars on the history of the college. Dominy has no plans to retire.

42 STUDENTS NAMED TO WHO'S WHO

Forty-two Plattsburgh State students have been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Randall Prior, Kenneth Roberts, Kelly Rock, Kevin Saylor, Scott Schimmel, Lomme Schokker, Dominic Szambowski, C. Gene Thomas, and Michelle Wilsey.

GRADUATE ENROLLMENT DECLINES IN NEARLY ALL AREAS

Graduate enrollment at Plattsburgh State is down in nearly all areas, according to a report prepared by Dr. Paul Roman, Dean of Graduate Studies and Research. This fall, 374 students were enrolled on the graduate level (down from 437 last fall) 82 full-time and 292 part-time. Of those students, 210 were matriculated students, a decrease from last year's 227. Several programs did, however, show an increase in active matriculated enrollments, including the MALS program, up 11 over last year's 23, hearing and speech, up seven from last year's 16, and counseling, up five in the CAS program and three in the MS program. Programs declining in enrollment include elementary education, reading specialist, psychology, special education, administration and supervision, biology and home economics education.

BARTON/WINKEL SCULPTURE SHOW OPENS IN MYERS GALLERY

An exhibition of sculpture by Edgar Barton and Nina Winkel opened this week in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery. Edgar Barton's medium is wood and 17 of his works are contained in the exhibit. Also included are five pieces of his jewelry. Barton joined the art department at Plattsburgh State in 1948. His sculpture has been exhibited widely throughout the United States and Canada in competitive and invitational shows and he has received two University grants to support his work.

Nina Winkel was born in Germany and studied sculpture there and in Paris. She came to the United States in 1942 and has resided in Keene Valley since 1954. Her work has been exhibited across the country and she has received many awards, including the E. Watrous Gold Medal, the Samuel F.B. Morse Gold Medal of the National Academy of Design and the Mrs. Louis Bennett Prize of the National Sculpture Society. Mrs. Winkel has sculpted in almost every media except wood. Her early methods included terracotta modeling, stone carving, and bronze, pewter and lava compound casting. More recently, she has turned to welding in copper, brass and silver.

The exhibition, which is free and open to the public, will continue through February 9.

SIGMA XI AWARDS $50 GRANT TO CHEMISTRY MAJOR

The Plattsburgh chapter of Sigma Xi has awarded its 1982-83 $50 grant-in-aid-of-research to Amy A. Murnane, a senior chemistry major from Plattsburgh. Murnane's research project is titled "Purification of the Nuclear Thyroid Hormone Receptor Protein from Chicken Liver." Dr. Roger Heintz, chemistry professor, is Murnane's research advisor. Dr. Stallard Waterhouse explained that grant proposals are solicited from undergraduates pursuing research projects and are judged on several criteria, including originality. He added that several excellent proposals were received this year.

COLLEGE RECEIVES GRANT FOR CANADIAN LIBRARY MATERIALS

For the third consecutive year, the College has received a grant from the Government of Canada to "develop its Canadian library holdings." The grant, in the amount of $2,000, is one of only a very few awarded in the United States, according to Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center for the Study of Canada. Beach said the money will be used for the acquisition of current monographs. He added that faculty members who are interested in the purchase of specific Canadian books for the library should inquire at the Center.

SPORTS UPDATE; BIBEAU NAMED DOWN EAST TOURNAMENT MVP

While Plattsburgh State students were still enjoying the holiday respite, the Cardinal hockey team opened its second semester schedule with two wins and a tough loss. The Cards were flying against the University of Calgary and came away with a 4-1 victory in the Field House. Teaming up in goal for the win were Steve Knish and Michel Valliere, who shut out the Dinosaurs in his first game as a Cardinal. Plattsburgh State took second place in the Down East Classic in Portland, Maine. The Redbirds downed Bowdoin 3-2 in overtime to set up a rematch with Lowell, who edged Colby 3-2, also in overtime. Although Valliere played well, stopping 42 shots, the Cards managed only 18 shots against Lowell and lost 4-2. Jean Simon Bibeau was named the tournament's most valuable player and was named to the all-tournament team along with Cardinal defenseman Keith Wright. Plattsburgh hosts two powerful rivals this week. Wednesday night, the Merrimack Warriors provide the opposition. Merrimack beat the Cards 7-3 in the Pepsi Cardinal Hockey Classic. Saturday evening, the Great Lakers of Oswego State will seek revenge for their 7-5 loss to the Cards in Oswego. The Pepsi Cardinal Basketball Classic takes place Friday and Saturday at Memorial Hall. North Adams State will meet Oswego State at 7 p.m. Friday while the Cards take on York College at 9 p.m. The consolation game will be played at 1 p.m. Saturday with the championship contest at 3 p.m.

ACID RAIN CONFERENCE SET FOR JANUARY 26

A conference on acid rain set for January 26 will bring to campus a noted researcher and a member of the Canadian Parliament to discuss that controversial issue. Dr. G.S. Kiang and the Honorable Coline Campbell will be the panelists for the seminar, which will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge. That same evening at 8 p.m., Dr. Kiang will deliver a lecture on the same topic.

Dr. G.S. Kiang is a member of the faculty of the School of Geophysical Sciences at the Georgia Institute of Technology. He is also a senior research associate of the Atmospheric Sciences Research Center in Albany and for two years was head of the Atmospheric Aerosol Project for the National Center for Atmospheric Research. He has served as an expert witness at congressional hearings on urban pollution problems.

The Honorable Coline Campbell was elected to the Canadian Parliament as a member of the liberal party from Nova Scotia. She has served as Parliamentary Secretary in the Federal Government and is currently chairperson of the Standing Committee on Fisheries, Forestry, and Environment. In 1980, she established a sub-committee on acid rain and has served on it since that time.

RECREATION CLASS BRINGS TOGETHER SENIOR CITIZENS AND GRADESCHOOLERS FOR HOLIDAY PARTY

Prior to the semester break, students in a recreation class, under the direction and supervision of Dr. Ernest Coons, professor of health, education, and recreation, planned and hosted a Christmas party for residents of the Robert S. Long Apartments and students in a third grade class at the Broad Street School. The party, held at the Long apartment building, included an arts and crafts session in the morning, an Italian lunch, and a music program in the afternoon.

SURVEY SHOWS PROSPECTIVE EMPLOYERS VALUE SPEAKING AND WRITING SKILLS

A survey by Professor Allen Blitstein of Southwest State University in Marshall, Minnesota shows that employers value writing and speaking skills above all other criteria in evaluating candidates for both employment and promotions with their company. The survey, published in "The Collegiate Forum" and quoted in a newsletter from the Clarkson College School of Management, also indicates that while grade point average is considered important in obtaining that first job, it decreases substantially as a factor in promotion or job success.

Blitstein queried intermediate-size and large business firms, government agencies and financial institutions throughout the country to determine, first, their principal criteria in giving jobs initially and, second, the relative importance of various factors in succeeding upon the job. Employers were asked to rate nine factors as very important, important or unimportant.

The specific importance of the various factors, as revealed in the Blitstein survey, are shown below:

FACTORS IN OBTAINING EMPLOYMENT				FACTORS IN SUCCEEDING ON THE JOB AND RECEIVING PROMOTIONS

FOUNDATION SETS ANNUAL GIVING MARK; $145,601 CONTRIBUTED

For the eleventh consecutive year, the Plattsburgh College Foundation achieved a new high in annual giving. Announcing the 1982 total of $145,601 in gifts, Foundation President E. Glenn Giltz paid tribute to the Annual Giving Chairperson Curtis E. Shipman and to the "many volunteers and donors who gave so unstintingly of their time and resources to support Plattsburgh State." This year's result is an increase of 14% over last year's annual giving total of $126,957.

Leading the various categories again this year was the Business/Corporate campaign, with income totalling $64,380, an increase of 30% in comparison with 1981's return, which was also a record amount. During the campaign, which was chaired by Harry Mowry, and co-chaired by Barbara Murray and Martin Mannix, Jr., an unprecedented 63 new firms joined the Foundation fold. At final count, gifts had been received from 170 businesses.

Even more dramatic was the outcome of the Alumni Fund (see Weekly of January 12 for complete details), which succeeded in cultivating gifts from 700 first-time contributors, establishing a 49% increase in participation, and raising $44,205.

The Friends campaign, under chairperson Jacqueline Walker, also reported a banner year in 1982. Contributions from Friends, in the amount of $24,274, were up sharply by 20% over the previous year.

For the second year in a row, the Trustees of the Lewis G. Robinson Foundation chose to support the College Foundation with a major gift to its scholarship fund. The gift, in the amount of $10,000, is restricted for use as scholarships and grants for residents of the Beekmantown School District who attend Plattsburgh State on a full-time basis. This year, more than 20 undergraduates are sharing in approximately $10,500 in scholarship monies made available by the Robinson gift of a year ago.

Contributions to the Cardinal Booster Club, an organization of alumni, faculty, staff, and other friends of Plattsburgh State who share a commitment to fostering excellence in intercollegiate athletics at the College, totaled $1,765. The decrease in support over previous years has been attributed to a change in direction brought about by NCAA rulings that prohibit grants-in-aid to scholar-athletes attending other than Division I or II schools.

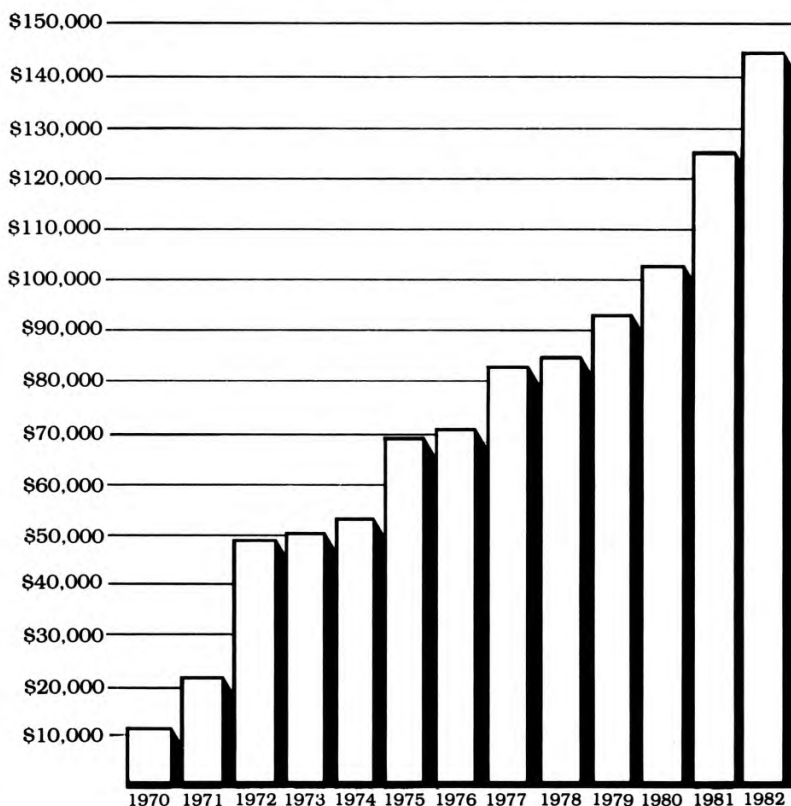

Giving to the Foundation's Library Fund in 1982, the third year of the fund, fell short of expectations. Nevertheless, 17 individuals and a college fraternity contributed $967 toward the purchase of books, reference works and other materials.

College President Joseph C. Burke extended his gratitude to all those who gave, saying, "Each contributor has demonstrated faith in our College and its purposes and high regard for its people, particularly our students." Burke also commented on continued cutbacks in federal and state spending for educational purposes and added, "While acknowledging the generosity of our supporters, I am also compelled to ask that they remain steadfast in their commitment to support the programs and objectives of the Foundation."

The annual meeting of the Foundation will be held tomorrow (Thursday) at 4:30 p.m. in the Orchard Room.

STATE COMPTROLLER RELEASES COLLEGE AUDIT REPORT

Results of an audit conducted by the Office of the State Comptroller have been released. The audit of the college's financial management practices for the period April 1, 1979 through March 31, 1981 was conducted at the college's request by six state auditors, who spent approximately five weeks on the campus in 1981.

The auditors made a number of recommendations for procedural changes, but William Woltjen, assistant to the vice president for finance and management, was quite pleased with the overall report, and said that SUNY Central Administration officials also felt it was a favorable report. Woltjen explained some of the report's recommendations. "The auditors claimed that controls over cash receipts and disbursements needed to be improved. We agree and have implemented some changes. However, many of these procedures cannot be implemented without the hiring of additional staff, which is impossible at this time." Auditors also recommended improved controls in the operation of Income Fund Reimbursable and Special Fund Estimate accounts, and again Woltjen said a number of recommendations have been implemented. Tighter controls in the areas of equipment inventory, library security, Student Association accounts, and restricted gifts to the College Foundation were also suggested.

Woltjen emphasized that, in all of the audit's recommendations and comments, there was no question of any mishandling or misappropriation of funds, and stressed that many of the recommendations made by the auditors had already been put into place since their visit to campus nearly two years ago.

SEAWELL HONORED AT RETIREMENT RECEPTION

Former Plattsburgh State Vice President for Finance and Management Bernard J. Seawell was honored January 13 by several hundred faculty, staff, administrators, students and community people at a retirement reception.

Seawell, who was appointed to the college staff in 1955 and served 28 years as the college's chief finance officer, retired January 1, thus ending the longest term of any finance officer in the State University system.

Plattsburgh College Council Chairman Louis Wolfe read a Council resolution expressing that body's appreciation to Seawell for his help in guiding "the college through a period of incredible growth and the more recent period of serious fiscal constraints without compromising the college's basic mission or its principles."

College President Joseph C. Burke, who was unable to attend the reception because of an out-of-town meeting, sent a message commending Seawell on his ability to adapt to and deal with both times of plenty and times of stringency, and saying, in part, "Your 28 years of doing what you thought was best for the college at Plattsburgh has earned you the respect and gratitude of hundreds of faculty and staff and thousands of students."

A letter from former Plattsburgh President George Angell was also read. Angell said, "You were one of those rare finance officers who knew how to make budgets serve rather than control educational purposes. Few institutions have been served with such devotion and insight."

Seawell was also presented with a painting during the reception.

College Council Chairman Louis Wolfe presents Bernard J. Seawell with a certificate of appreciation during the reception.

FOLK ART EXHIBITION ON DISPLAY IN KENT GALLERY

"Found in New York's North Country: Folk Art of a Region" is the title of the current exhibition in the Feinberg Library's Rockwell Kent Gallery Alcove. More than 50 pieces of folk art, ranging from Mohawk beadwork and baskets to early furniture to weathervanes, waterfowl decoys, trade signs, portraits, wood carvings and crocks are included in the display which was assembled by guest curator Varick Chittenden during a five year period. The exhibition brings together for the first time objects that have strong associations with the traditional culture of the region, and the history of local individuals, families and communities.

The exhibition will continue through February 5.

TUTORING CENTER NOW OPEN IN NEW LOCATION

The college's Tutoring Center is now open in its new location, Meeting Room 7 of the College Center, with expanded services. The Tutoring Center received a grant of $5,000 last fall from College Auxiliary Services, which, combined with other funds from the Student Association, SSP, EOP, and the Vice Presidents for Academic and Student Affairs, has been used to hire a graduate student and to increase the number of peer tutors. The additional funding has made tutoring services available to a larger number of students.

The Tutoring Center offers content tutoring, study skills and writing skills assistance to students. Students seeking help are encouraged to make an appointment. Faculty members may make referrals through Elizabeth Pasti, Director of SSP. The Tutoring Center is open Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday through Thursday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

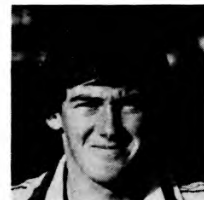

STUDENT ASSOCIATION TO SPONSOR JORMA KAUKONEN CONCERT

Jorma Kaukonen with the Pig Light Show will present two concerts at Plattsburgh State on Friday, January 28. The two shows, sponsored by the Student Association Concert Committee, will be held at 7:30 and 11:30 p.m. in the Hawkins Hall Auditorium. Tickets, at $5 for PSUC students and $7 for the general public, are now on sale at the College Center desk, Record Town in the Pyramid Mall and Bailey's Music Room in Burlington.

MCDONAGH NAMED ALL-AMERICAN AGAIN

Plattsburgh State soccer standout John McDonagh was named an All-American for the second consecutive year this week by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. The junior international business major from London, England was selected as a back to the 1982 NSCAA All-America second team. McDonagh scored six goals this year for the Cardinals, who ended their season with a 11-7-1 record.

This honor is the season's third for "Johnny Mac," who was also named to the NSCAA's All-New York State first team and the SUNYAC East All-Star team. This is the second year in a row he has received all three honors. Two years ago, as a freshman, McDonagh was named to the SUNYAC All-Star team.

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES TO SPONSOR FORUM AND CULTURAL EXHIBIT

A forum on "Crisis and Revolution in Central America" and a Guatemalan cultural exhibit will take place on campus next week under the sponsorship of the Latin American Studies program. The forum is scheduled for January 26 at 7 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge and will feature three speakers. Helen Pollard, assistant professor of anthropology, will speak on "The Second Conquest: Repression of Guatemalan Indians." Dr. Peter Gore, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science and a member of a recent mission which reviewed the land reform program in El Salvador, will discuss, "Myths and Realities: Land Reform in El Salvador," and Dr. William Culver, chairman of the political science department, will talk on "Nicaragua in 1983: A Threat to the United States?"

Following the forum, a Guatemalan cultural exhibit of backstrap and foot loom weavings will open with a coffeehouse/reception at 8:30 p.m. Jacqueline Kippert '80, who has spent much of the last two years in Guatemala, will be present to discuss the current situation in that country. The exhibit, entitled "Weavers of Eternity, Children of Today," will be on display Thursday, January 27 and Friday, January 28 from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. daily.

Both the forum and the exhibit are free and open to the public.

SPORTS UPDATE: WINS, WINS, WINS

It was one of those banner weeks for Cardinal athletics. Most Valuable Player Paul Glodis averaged 21 points a game to lead Plattsburgh State to the championship of the first Pepsi Cardinal Basketball Classic last weekend. The Redbird men dumped North Adams State, 83-64, in the title tilt while Oswego State won the consolation game over York College, 79-56. In exciting first-round contests, North Adams edged Oswego, 95-94, and Plattsburgh State defeated York, 64-58, in overtime. Joining Glodis on the all-tournament team were fellow Cardinal forward Jim Maniatis, forwards Steve Flannery of Oswego and Jeff Reed of North Adams, and guard Mike Cain of York. The weekend wins evened the Cards' record at 5-5.

ALUMNI AND ACADEMIC DEPARTMENTS ASSISTING ADMISSIONS OFFICE IN RECRUITMENT

Recruitment efforts on the part of the Admissions Office are getting a boost this spring from about 90 alumni around the state and all of the various academic departments on campus. Admissions Director David Truax said this week that the alumni, who reside in 19 of the most populous counties of the state, make personal contact with all students from their immediate locale who have been accepted by the college for the fall semester. The alumni offer to provide information or assistance to these students in an effort to increase the number who will accept the offer of admission. Likewise, congratulatory letters from each academic department are sent to each student accepted into the department's program, with a similar offer of help and/or information.

Truax said these personalized approaches to accepted students, which were instituted several years ago, have a positive effect on the college's yield rate (the number of accepted students who actually enroll).

GOVERNOR'S BUDGET ELIMINATES 75 POSITIONS FROM COLLEGE

Governor Cuomo's Executive Budget for 1983-84 proposes a $1.3 million base cut in the College's salary budget. President Joseph C. Burke estimates that the reduction would result in the elimination of approximately 75 positions of which 60 are presently filled.

In addition to the proposed cuts in personnel, the budget:

- Assures a tuition increase of at least $250 for New York State students, bringing tuition costs for them to $1,300 a year.
- Increases room rent by $150, to $1,400 a year.
- Raises tuition for out-of-state students by $1,400, to $3,100 a year.
- Assesses a $25 computer fee on all students to provide funds for the purchase of small computers for student use.

Burke pointed out that the College has lost 78, or 9.4 percent of its total staff since the 1973-74 academic year. Now, in one year, the College is scheduled to lose an additional 10 percent.

"Developing a plan to eliminate the 75 positions will challenge the creativity of all on our campus to achieve such a massive cut without destroying the viability of our College," Burke declared.

The new cutbacks represent Plattsburgh's pro-rated share of the total position reduction in the University. SUNY presidents have been directed to submit a plan to SUNY Central by February 9 detailing how the proposed cuts can be accomplished. SUNY Central will then review the plans, confer with the Board of Trustees, and present the University's overall plan to the Governor by the March 1 deadline.

On Tuesday, Burke presented a briefing on the Governor's Budget to the Faculty Senate Budget and Resources Committee and officials of the local chapters of the United University Professions and C.S.E.A. On Friday Burke will present his plan to Budget and Resources and ask them to respond by Monday.

At a briefing for SUNY presidents in Albany last Friday, Burke was informed that a total of about 10,000 state workers face layoffs, with SUNY's share set at 2,199, or 22 percent of the total. Of the target cuts, 1,569 are in "filled" positions.

Burke learned that the non-teaching staff are to be terminated by April 1, and the teaching faculty by August 31.

Additionally, the budget calls for 2,400 state employees to be eliminated during fiscal 1983-84 by "managed attrition." This program calls for the filling of two of every three vacant positions. SUNY's share of the 2,400 cuts is 643 jobs.

At a news conference on Tuesday, Burke made the following statement: "New York State faces a heavy budget deficit and the Governor's Budget reflects hard choices to close the gap between revenue and expenditures. Without denying that the fiscal situation of the State requires such painful decreases, one should ponder the society that makes necessary increases in expenditures for corrections and police while making the greatest cuts in elementary, secondary and higher education. The Governor's budget will force difficult decisions on the administration, faculty and staff of the College at Plattsburgh. We cannot eliminate an additional 10% of our faculty and staff without damaging the lives and livelihoods of faithful employees; and we cannot remain a viable and quality institution in the future without the continuing creativity and commitment of the faculty, staff and students. Some public colleges and universities in this state may never recover from these devastating cuts. The next few months will tell whether we have the courage and creativity to make the painful choices required to preserve the quality of the institution despite a drastic cut in the quantity of our resources. The next few months will test whether we have the will and the wisdom to once more find ways to do 'better' with 'less.' "

FACULTY AND STAFF BRIEFING ON BUDGET SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

President Joseph C. Burke has scheduled a briefing for faculty and staff on the Governor's Executive Budget for 1983-84 for 4 p.m. on Friday, February 4 in Room CL-200.

COLLEGE NOMINATES TWO FOR TRUMAN SCHOLARSHIPS

Two Plattsburgh sophomores have been nominated for Harry S. Truman Scholarships from the college. The two Plattsburgh nominees are Anthony Armlin, a political science/history major from Averill Park, N.Y. and Alan Opsal, a Canadian Studies major from Adrian, Michigan, who transferred to Plattsburgh this fall from Adrian College. Opsal is currently working part-time on a second bachelor's degree (in Eastern European Studies) at the University of Vermont. Both men intend to pursue doctoral studies following their graduation from Plattsburgh.

The Truman scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit to students who will be college juniors in the 1983-84 academic year and who have an outstanding potential for leadership in government. The grants cover tuition, fees, books, and room and board, up to $5,000 annually for up to four years.

The Upward Bound Program is looking for qualified applicants for thirteen Tutor/Counselor positions with its 1983 Summer Program. MUSIC BY WOMEN FEATURED IN LECTURE/RECITAL

A lecture/recital performed by Carole Friedman (pianist) and Julie Kabot (soprano/composer), will be held this week in Myers Fine Arts, Hartman Theatre on February 4 at 8:00 p.m. The program, "Music by Women" poses probing questions about the social, economic and personal obstacles which have confronted women composers during the last five centuries. The lecture will consider the question of why there have been so few women composers, while the recital will establish that it has been women's traditional role — not some innate inability — which has made a career in composition so difficult and unlikely. Based on extensive research conducted under grants from the New York Council for the Humanities and the National Endowment for the Humanities, the program features works and historical notes from medieval times to the present. "Music by Women" is sponsored by the Campus Life — Office of Student Activities and the New York State Council on the Arts. The program is free of charge and is open to the campus and public.

APPLY FOR NEXT YEAR'S FINANCIAL AID NOW

The 1983-84 Financial Aid applications are now available in the Financial Aid Office, 4th Floor Kehoe. Students interested in being evaluated for Pell Grant, College Foundation Scholarship, College Work-Study Program, Educational Opportunity Grant, Federal Nursing Loan, National Direct Student Loan and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant should send a completed Financial Aid Form to Princeton, New Jersey, no later than March 1 to guarantee arrival at the school by the April 15 deadline. Also required by the April 15 deadline are signed copies of 1981 federal and New York State tax returns, where applicable. Students interested in Work-Study must, in addition, complete registration cards which are also available in the Financial Aid Office.

Incoming transfer students must submit Financial Aid Transcripts from all colleges previously attended.

Bank loan applicants are urged to submit application after May 1 since the application forms may be amended during the spring.

In an effort to serve students in a more effective manner, Financial Aid advisers will see students by appointment only for complex problems. A day's notice will be sufficient to set up these meetings. As always, general questions can be answered by the receptionists who are available 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily in room 406 of Kehoe.

DANIEL BERRIGAN TO SPEAK ON CAMPUS ON FEBRUARY 9

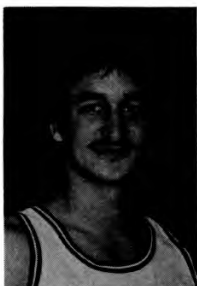

Well-known anti-nuclear arms activist Daniel Berrigan will be a guest speaker on the campus on February 9. Berrigan, who is a founder of the Catholic Peace Fellowship and the author of 31 books, will give a poetry reading at 4 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge. At 8:15 p.m., Berrigan will deliver a lecture entitled "Resisting Nuclear Weapons" in the College Center Ballroom.

Berrigan's visit is jointly sponsored by the Student Association, several academic departments, and other on and off-campus groups. For more information, contact Dr. Anne Klejment, 564-2232.

ALUMNI HOCKEY GAME TO BRING BACK FORMER CARDINAL STARS

At least twenty-five former hockey players for the Plattsburgh State Cardinals will return to the ice Friday evening for a match-up with this year's team. The game, set for 7:30 p.m. at the field house, will feature some special rules, according to coach Doug Kacharvich, such as a ban on slap shots and checking. Among those returning to the field house will be Gaetan D'Anjou, John Corker, Jean Dahme, Bruce Bullard, Pierre Brunet, Danny Brown, Francois Bellefeuille, Bob Bateman, Howard Jennings, Harry Keenan, Doug Kimura, John Laurie, Tom Longshore, Chuck Luker, Peter MacKenzie, Lou Martin, John Mayette, Ken Noble, Brad Ott, Mike Talbot, Matt Wescott, Rick Young, Denny Poulin, Jimm Griffin, and Rick Gosselin.

GLODIS TOPS 1,000 CAREER POINTS AS CARDINAL HOOPSTERS WIN TWO, LOSE 1

Paul Glodis became the eighth player in Cardinal basketball history to score 1,000 career points Saturday night in Plattsburgh State's 88-72 victory over Lyndon State. Glodis' game-high 35 points gave him 1,011 career points, which place him eighth on PSUC's all-time list. With eight games left, Glodis is closely trailing Ronnie Wright (1,012) and Robert Garrow (1,015) and has a good chance of moving past Tom Chapin as well into the fifth place on the all-time scoring list.

Glodis also scored 16 points in a 61-57 loss to SUNYAC rival Potsdam State and another 16 as the Redbirds beat Utica Tech, 88-55. Plattsburgh is 9-7 overall and 2-3 in SUNYAC with eight games left.

Glodis, a senior health education major from Queens, N.Y., was last year's leading scorer in the SUNY Athletic Conference, and was named to the all-conference team. In SUNYAC competition during the 1981-82 season, Glodis average 20.1 points and 8.4 rebounds per game.

SPORTS UPDATE: CLASSIC BELONGS TO CARDINALS

The Cardinal hockey team pulled off two comebacks, but its luck ran out in a third attempt. Down 3-1 against Potsdam State, the Cards rallied to skin the Bears, 6-4. Doug Smoke's overtime score capped a three-goal burst that carried the Redbirds past Cortland State, 5-4. But Elmira took a 4-1 lead and held on to stop the Cards, 5-3. The skaters stand at 13-9-1 overall and 11-6 in Division II with seven contests remaining.

Plattsburgh State's women basketball team was 9-12 in 1980-81 and 1981-82. This season, the Redbird hoopsters are 9-3 after drubbing Utica Tech, 77-58, and pasting Johnson State, 87-30. Maureen McClendon, fresh off the injured list, netted 18 points versus Utica and Tracy Burrus and Janet Manor scored 15 each against Johnson.

Powerful Potsdam State dunked both Cardinal swim teams last weekend. The Plattsburgh State men fell to 3-5 with the 70-43 setback while the Card women are even at 4-4 after losing, 60-49.

The second Cardinal Classic was successful for both indoor track and field squads. Charlene Fenton (400 meters), Rose Copper (500 meters), Amy Pagani (800 meters), Linda Krasensky (1,000 meters), and Maureen McCoy (3,000 meters) were individual winners in the Cards' first-place effort. PSUC's 4x440-yard relay team of Fenton, Krasensky, Olympia Clark, and Pagani also won. Plattsburgh State (118 points) topped a seven-team field. Union College (58) was second.

Union's men's team (150 points), strong overall, took first over Plattsburgh State (86) and representatives of nine other teams. Scott Camarra (long jump) was the only Cardinal individual winner but the team of Bill Ferreri, Dean Diltz, Scott Turner and Bob Brenner took the 4x880-yard relay.

BURKE OUTLINES PLAN FOR MEETING PROPOSED POSITION CUTS

The plan outlining the college's response to a $1.3 million reduction in salaries called for in Governor Mario Cuomo's 1983-84 Executive Budget was revealed to faculty and staff today by President Joseph C. Burke. Saying, "It is impossible to make cuts of this magnitude without seriously affecting the college, but we have done our best to minimize the impact on the quality of our academic programs and on student access," Burke outlined the proposal, which he presented to SUNY Central Administration on Wednesday and which was reviewed earlier by the Faculty Senate Committee on Resources and Planning. If the plan is implemented as it stands, the college will no longer have a vice president for finance and management, a graduate dean or a physical education requirement for students. In summary, the plan calls for the deletion of 3 management/confidential employees, 10 members of the professional staff, 34.5 faculty positions, and 31.5 classified positions. The 79 cuts eliminate 10.5% of the college's total faculty and staff positions.

The plan reorganizes some departments presently under Business Affairs. Under it, the Security department would transfer to Student Affairs, and the remaining functions would be divided as follows: Finance would be under the direction of the assistant vice president for finance; Facilities and Grounds and Personnel would each be under a director. All three officers would report directly to the president.

The position of graduate dean would be abolished under the plan. The technical aspects of graduate admissions would be handled by the Admissions Office. The jurisdiction for graduate programs would be the responsibility of the Deans of the two Faculties. A director of research would be hired.

The position of graduate dean would be abolished under the plan. The technical aspects of graduate admissions would be handled by the Admissions Office. The jurisdiction for graduate programs would be the responsibility of the Deans of the two Faculties. A director of research would be hired.

The plan proposes the elimination of the 2-hour requirement in physical education activities as well as the elimination of all physical education courses. Under the plan, 2 current full-time faculty in health education and 1 full-time faculty in outdoor recreation would move to the Center for Teacher Education. An Office of Athletics and Recreation in the Division of Student Affairs would retain 1 FTE as Director of Athletics, 1 FTE for intramurals and recreational activities, 2 FTE's for men's and women's basketball, 1 FTE for men's and women's track and cross country, 1 FTE for men's hockey, 1 FTE for women's soccer, and 1 FTE for athletic trainer. Additional responsibilities would be assigned to each of the above depending on their talents and experience and on the needs of the college.

In other areas, the plan proposes that all graduate programs in education be offered only during the summer session. It calls for a new Human Resources Center to include the faculty in Home Economics, along with Drs. John Middleton, Jane Gore, and Padmini Gulati. In the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, two positions in studio art (1 FTE of part-time faculty and 1 full-time faculty) would be deleted. The music major would be phased out and four faculty members would be retained — the three members of the Champlain Trio and one additional faculty for jazz. Counseling Education and Behavioral Science would join with the Department of Psychology to create a new Academic Center. The Center for Business and Economics would move to the Faculty of Professional Studies.

A complete listing of the positions proposed for deletion is as follows:

Burke noted that the plan is merely a proposal. The state legislature must approve the budget and SUNY Central must approve the plan. He said, "We want to assure our current and future students that our uppermost thought throughout this fiscal crisis has been to maintain the quality of our academic programs and essential services. We believe this plan achieves that goal."

GOVERNOR TO BE GUEST ON 'CALL-IN' TV SHOW

A live "call-in" show with Governor Mario Cuomo as the guest will be broadcast at 10 p.m. on Wednesday, February 16 on WCCE-TV, Channel 57 (cable channel 7). Calls will be accepted on a toll-free number beginning at approximately 8 p.m. on the day of the program. Questions will be accepted and considered and those callers selected to repeat their questions on the air will be called back at about 10 p.m. The toll-free number will be published in a Press-Republican ad on February 16 and will also appear on WCCE-TV that evening beginning at 8 p.m.

DELUCA SELECTED ODK LEADER OF THE YEAR

James J. DeLuca, a senior business major from Shoreham, N.Y., has been selected by the Plattsburgh State circle of Omicron Delta Kappa as its 1982-83 Leader of the Year. Dr. Eldridge Roark, advisor to the national leadership honor society, said that DeLuca was selected because of the broad range of leadership responsibilities he has assumed during his college career. DeLuca has served as vice president of a dormitory council, SA Vice President for Student Affairs, SA Senator, vice president of ODK, a summer orientation leader, and a resident assistant for three years. He is listed in the current edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. DeLuca served last fall as a student intern in the Alumni Affairs office and played a large role in the overwhelming success of the alumni phonathon. As the representative of the local circle, DeLuca will be a nominee for Leader of the Year in Province 1 of ODK, which includes 20 colleges and universities in the Northeast portion of the United States.

FOUNDATION SCHOLARS ENROLLED IN SPECIAL COURSE

Four Plattsburgh faculty are combining their expertise this semester in a special course offering for the College Foundation Scholars. Dr. Edgar Burde, associate professor of English, Dr. Prem Ghandi, professor of business and economics, Dr. Carol Leonard, assistant professor of history, and Dr. Edward Schaffer, associate professor of sociology are teaching INT-201 which is described as an exploration of "issues related to the interconnections and competitiveness of the U.S. with other nations and in particular with its super power rival — the Soviet Union." The course readings and class discussions focus on changes in American society and the world order which reflect circumstances that currently threaten peace and the viability of the world economy. Currently the college enrolls 15 Foundation scholars.

GEOGRAPHY HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS FOUR

Gamma Theta Upsilon, the geography honor society, recently inducted four new members. Membership in the honor society is based on excellence in the study of geography. New members must maintain at least a B average in geography coursework and be in the upper 35% of their class.

Elected to full membership were senior John Donahue and juniors Steven Farmer and Andrew Sherman. All three are geography majors. Junior Peter Lorenz, an undeclared major, was elected to associate membership.

SCHOLARSHIP CREATED IN MEMORY OF NURSING MAJOR

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Glenmont, N.Y., have created a $750 scholarship through the Plattsburgh College Foundation in honor of their daughter, Michele Martin, who was fatally injured in a car accident last summer. At the time of her death, Michele was a junior nursing major at Plattsburgh State.

The Michele Martin Scholarship will be awarded yearly to a junior nursing major who has a cumulative average of 2.5 or above and who, in the judgment of the Nursing Department scholarship committee, possesses a strong commitment to the nursing profession.

SPORTS UPDATE; FORMER HOCKEY STARS TIE CURRENT CARDS

For the Cardinal hockey team, the Plattsburgh State alumni proved a greater challenge than the University of Buffalo. The alumni managed a 10-10 tie with the varsity as Danny Brown and Pierre Brunet scored twice each. The next night, however, the opposition was never in the game as Jean Simon Bibeau netted a first-period hat trick and Dan Bedard turned aside 36 shots to lead the Cards to a 7-2 victory. Doug Smoke and Chip Grabowski each scored twice. Plattsburgh State, 14-9-1 overall and 12-6 in Division II, hosts Elmira Friday and Geneseo State Saturday.

The men's basketball squad lost a crucial SUNYAC battle to Cortland State, 70-68, on a Red Dragon bucket with two seconds remaining. Union College drubbed the Redbirds, 72-56, the following afternoon. Paul Glodis led the Cards in both contests, scoring 18 and 12 points, respectively. Plattsburgh State is 10-9 overall and 2-4 in SYNYAC.

Phoebe Sturm's Cardinals, flying high after a 75-73 upset of Albany State, were brought back to earth by RPI in a 63-49 loss. Merry Ducatte sank the shot that clinched the Albany with seven seconds left after Anne Slattery poured in 22 points. Tracy Burrus scored 13 points against RPI and was the only Redbird in double figures. Plattsburgh State, 10-5, hosts Russell Sage Friday evening.

The women's swim team dipped below .500 for the first time all year when it was defeated 80-59 by Skidmore. First-place finishes were recorded by Patti McAllister (500 free), Jill Collier (optional diving), Sue Wells (required diving), Ellen Hoch (50 free), and Nancy Sawyer (100 IM). Verna Cooper, McAllister, Vicki Hatch and Sawyer won the 200-yard freestyle relay. The Plattsburgh State swimmers are 4-5 with one dual meet remaining.

Outstanding performers and team depth enabled Vermont to outdistance Plattsburgh State's trackmen last Saturday at the Field House. UVM (91 points) beat the Cards (41), Sherbrooke (32) and Laval (6). Redbird firsts were earned by Ed McClendon (800 meters), Scott Camarra (long jump) and Bob Brenner (3000 meters).

Dick Fischer's women's team performed well considering the top talent it faced at Vermont. Plattsburgh State (9 points) was fourth of five teams, losing to Vermont (110), Cortland State (70) and the University of Massachusetts (41), but running ahead of Albany State (7). Cardinal point scorers were Maureen McCoy, second in the 800-meter run, Charlene Fenton, fourth in the 600-yard run, and the 4x880-yard relay team of McCoy, Alison Field, Linda Krasensky and Amy Pagani.

REV. DANIEL KEEFE TO RECEIVE DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

The College Council has announced its selection of the Rev. Daniel Keefe, long-time pastor of the Newman Center, to receive the Distinguished Service Award at the May commencement exercises. "Father Dan," as he is affectionately known, became pastor of the John XXXIII College Community in 1969 and immediately established a remarkable rapport with both the college students and the "year-rounders" of the local community. A Plattsburgh native, he attended St. John's and graduated in 1946. He entered the Wadhams Hall Seminary college that same year and studied there through 1950. He then attended St. Bernard's Seminary until 1954, at which time he was ordained. Following assignments as an assistant pastor at Holy Family Parish in Watertown, St. Patrick's in Chateaugay, Immaculate Conception in Keeseville, St. Mary's in Potsdam, and St. Joseph's in Dannemora, he was named pastor of St. Peter's in Hammond and St. Patrick's in Rossie, where he served until 1969 when he was assigned to the Newman Center.

Rev. Keefe is currently Diocesan Director of Campus Ministry. He also serves on the Clinton County Cancer Society Board of Directors. He is a past member of the Crisis Center and the Mental Health Association Boards.

STUDENTS, UNIONS OPPOSE BUDGET CUTS; TUITION, RENT HIKES

The Student Association and the United University Professions have joined forces to mount an extensive lobbying campaign against Governor Mario Cuomo's proposed budget for the State University system for next year. SA President Tom Swan said this week that a fact sheet on the proposed budget has been prepared and is being distributed to students through an information table in the College Center and with the help of dormitory council officers. Students, said Swan, are being encouraged to write to their local legislators and to urge their parents to do the same. Swan added that letters written on campus are being collected and will be sent via bulk mail to the legislators at their Albany offices. Forensic team members have volunteered their time to prepare and deliver informational speeches on campus and to visit various legislators to protest the cuts in faculty and staff and the increases in tuition and dormitory rent. Lobbying trips to Albany are also being planned.

President of the campus UUP chapter Stan Wojtowicz said that union, which represents faculty and professional staff, is supporting the SA's efforts. In addition, Wojtowicz said UUP is making a proposal to the state legislature to close the budget gap without such extensive cuts in SUNY. UUP is supporting a temporary tax surcharge of 5-6% in order to keep educational funding at an appropriate level. Wojtowicz said this measure had been taken twice in recent years when New York City was in severe financial crisis, so a precedent had been set. He added that UUP is also asking that Bundy aid not be given to private schools for their out-of-state students.

CSEA local president Betty Lennon said that members of that union were also being asked to write to the Governor and to local legislators protesting the severe personnel cuts.

STATE CONTROLLER'S OFFICE EXTENDS REPAYMENT PERIOD FOR SALARY ADVANCE

A change has been announced regarding a salary advance for those UUP employees who were not on the payroll as of June 30, 1982 and who, as a result, are not eligible for the 9% increase. William Woltjen, assistant vice president for finance, said this week that a memorandum circulated to those people last Wednesday said that one-half of the normal biweekly net could be advanced on February 23, but must be repaid on March 9. This repayment schedule has been changed. The State Controller's Office has now agreed to extend the repayment period an additional pay period, with one-half of the advance to be repaid on March 9 and the balance on March 23. Woltjen said that anyone who wanted this advance should contact Mrs. Jan Ryan at 564-2130.

Woltjen added that an alternative solution might be to contact the College Credit Union. The credit union has agreed to waive the normal waiting period and will allow an individual to make a loan for a longer period than one month. Loans from the Credit Union will be subject to interest payments.

SIX-MONTH GRANT REPORT SHOWS GAINS AND LOSSES

A report on grant activity for the six-month period July 1 - December 31, 1982 indicates some gains and some losses when compared with the same period one year earlier. The report, prepared by Dr. Paul Roman, Dean of Graduate Studies and Research, shows that the dollar amount of funds requested during that six-month period increased by 168% over the previous year, from $583,000 to $1,563,000. This increase lifted Plattsburgh to a ranking of third among the senior arts and science colleges, compared to seventh last year. However, despite the increase in funds requested, the number of grant applications fell, and Plattsburgh now ranks fifth in that category, compared to fourth last year.

The total dollar amount of funds committed to Plattsburgh has also dropped, decreasing from $715,000 to $535,000, or 25%. The college's ranking, however, has remained the same in this category. In actual grant expenditures, the report continues, there has been a 6.5% increase, from $481,000 to $512,000, which maintains the college's third place ranking.

ALBANY AREA ALUMNI EMPLOYED IN STATE GOVERNMENT HOSTED AT RECEPTION

Approximately 30 Plattsburgh State alumni were hosted by College President Joseph C. Burke at a reception in Albany last Wednesday evening. Director of Alumni Affairs Mal Lavery said that these alumni, most of whom graduated in the 1970's, hold positions within the state government. The purpose of gathering these alumni Lavery said, was to build a core of young alumni in state government who might assist the college in such areas as admissions recruitment and legislative relations.

On Tuesday evening, a reception was held for approximately 100 Albany area alumni following the Plattsburgh-Union game.

TROISI PRESENTS RESEARCH TO SECONDARY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS

Dr. Nicholas Troisi, Dean of Professional Studies, recently made a presentation of his research on "What Makes Effective Schools" at the annual conference of the National Association of Secondary School Principals held in Dallas, Texas. Troisi's report was the result of research done last fall, while he was serving as the first "Professor-in-Residence" at NASSP's headquarters in Reston, Virginia. Troisi's project was chosen with the intent of clarifying for secondary and middle level educators the implications and application of emerging research on effective teaching and instruction.

ART EXHIBITS FEATURE WORKS BY NEW YORKER CARTOONIST AND NEW JERSEY PHOTOGRAPHER

Two art exhibitions opened this week in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery and the Rockwell Kent Gallery Alcove. Seventy prints and drawings by the well-known "New Yorker" cartoonist Edward Koren will be on view at the Myers Gallery through March 4. An essay by exhibition curator Daniel Robbins says, "Although (Koren's) work is generally very humorous, he does not work chiefly to be amusing; although his work has been characterized as charming, droll, winning, lovable, and, at the same time politically alert, biting, keen social satire, he does not work exclusively, or even principally toward these ends. Drawings and prints by Koren reveal a broad intellectual curiosity and a deep moral sense."

A series of recent photographs of the industrial landscape of northern New Jersey by photographer Erik Landsberg is on display in the Kent Gallery Alcove for the same time period. Landsberg has lived most of his life in that area and writes that he has been "an interested observer of the process of the landscape being transformed to accommodate the growth of industry and commerce. I have been motivated to photograph when this process results in a variety of balanced and imbalanced visual tensions that develop as the landscape is altered by the encroachment of society."

Both exhibitions are free and open to the public.

FEINBERG LIBRARIANS OFFER ADVANCED INSTRUCTION, RESEARCH GUIDES

Feinberg librarians would like to remind faculty of several services designed to support class instruction. Advanced instruction in library use may be arranged for students in courses which require major research. Special instruction sessions are taught by the librarians, who tailor instruction to the needs of the student as outlined by the faculty member.

Library research guides, designed to support a particular course, are also available to students at the request of faculty members. Typically, such a guide includes a selective bibliography of the library's books on course materials, relative subject headings, a listing of important reference tools, and descriptions of appropriate periodical indexing and abstracting tools. Preparation of a research guide may take some time, so faculty members are urged to make requests a semester in advance.

For more information on these and other library services, faculty members may contact Topsy Smalley at 564-3180.

THEATRE MAJORS PARTICIPATE IN SUNY 'THEATRE IN NEW YORK CITY/BEHIND THE SCENES' TRIP

The students, who were accompanied by Dr. Charles Kline, professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, participated in their choice of studio activities, selected from costuming, stage design, production arts, or acting. They also attended two on- or off-Broadway productions. The students who made the trip were: Kaarina Brown, Darren J. That same afternoon, Zeitz will lecture at 3:30 p.m. on "The Differences and Similarities in Attitudes and Behavior Between Male and Female Managers."

Zeitz's firm provides training, counseling and research services to corporations and public sector agencies in the areas of stress management, problems of combining work and family, and the impact of sex-role stereotyping on the productivity of men and women. She makes frequent radio and TV appearances, and is the author of many journal and magazine articles. She is currently co-authoring a book on managing money problems.

Her appearance is co-sponsored by the Women's Studies Program, the Center for Business and Economics and the psychology department. Both the workshop and the lecture are open to the campus community.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN HOOPSTERS CONTINUE WINNING WAYS

The hockey Cardinals won two of three division contests last week. After a 5-2 loss at Union, the Redbirds gained revenge against Elmira (6-3) and edged Geneseo State (3-1). Now 16-10-1 overall and 14-7 in Division II, the Cards have three games left in which to solidify their position in the ECAC West playoff seedings.

Norm Law's basketball team fell out of the SUNYAC title battle, losing a heartbreaker to Albany State (59-57). The Cards bounced back to romp over Binghamton State (73-59). With three games remaining, Plattsburgh State is 11-10 overall and 3-5 in SUNYAC.

The Lady Redbird basketball team improved its record to 11-5 with a 91-73 pasting of Russell Sage. Merry Ducatte meshed 28 points and Maureen McClendon added 20. The Cards have four games left.

McGill University swamped the Plattsburgh State swimming contingents, beating both the Cardinal men (71-22) and women (73-17). Mark Beamish was the only Redbird racer to win an event. He took the 500-yard freestyle. The Cardinal men are 3-6 with a dual meet left while the women are 4-6 with only the state AIAW championships left to swim. Charlene Fenton accounted for all of Plattsburgh State's points (3) in a triangular meet with Colby (66) and Dartmouth (65). Fenton was third in the 400 meters and fourth in the 200 meters. Amy Pagani, who did not place, set a PSUC record in the 800-meter run with a time of 2:21.0.

IN VITRO CELL BIOLOGY PROGRAM RELOCATED AT MINER CENTER

An Open House Friday at the Miner Institute celebrated the new location of the College's in vitro cell biology program. The program, which was begun in 1980, originally operated in conjunction with the W. Alton Jones Cell Science Center in Lake Placid, and students from PSUC and other colleges and universities, spent one semester there learning tissue culture techniques. However, a change in direction at the Cell Science Center meant the end of the program there. College and Miner Institute officials quickly came to an agreement to locate the program at the Chazy facility. The Miner Institute has contributed several hundred thousand dollars to completely refurbish a section of its laboratories and the facility is now "without equal in this country," according to Dr. William Graziadei, who is in charge of the program.

Sixteen students are enrolled in the fifteen-credit program this semester. The program is the only one of its kind for undergraduates in the country, Graziadei said, although several other colleges and universities are now considering starting their own. Graziadei explained some of the program's high points. "We will have 27 adjunct faculty lecturing to these students this semester," he said.

"This not only exposes the students to people who are the best in their field, it establishes contacts for later when they are looking for jobs or applying to graduate school." He also commented that the semester-in-residence allows students continual access to the laboratories and their research projects. "In most courses," he said, "students can only do experiments that can be completed in one or two hours. Here, students are frequently in the lab before breakfast, after dinner, and even on weekends!"

Dr. William Graziadei, professor of biology, and Liz Crane, lab supervisor at Miner Institute, check some of the tissue culture experiments by in vitro cell biology students.

PRESIDENTS OF FIVE COLLEGES IN INDIA TO VISIT CAMPUS IN APRIL

Presidents of five colleges in India will visit Plattsburgh State for a week in April. The five, along with two registrars and one other president, are spending five weeks in the United States as part of the 1983 Indian Educational Administrators Project, which is funded through Fulbright grants. Participants will visit a number of public and private institutions in the United States during the first four weeks, and will study college-community relationships; faculty improvement programs, including evaluation; student services; and administration of undergraduate colleges. Their last week will be spent in Washington meeting with representatives of public and private agencies concerned with national educational policies and programs. Following that, the Fulbright scholars will prepare and present reports on their experience in this country.

Expected to attend the meeting are UUP President Dr. Nuala Drescher, Assemblyman Andrew Ryan, two aides of Senator Ronald Stafford, and a SASU representative.

PRESIDENT'S CLUB MEMBERS HONORED AT RECEPTION

Members of the President's Club were honored Saturday evening at a reception hosted by President and Mrs. Burke. The President's Club is comprised of individuals, businessmen and corporations who contribute a minimum of $500 yearly to the College Foundation.

Eleven persons were awarded plaques citing their or their business's participation in the President's Club for the first time. Seventy persons received 1982 date tabs indicating that they or their businesses had participated in the program previously.

New members of the President's Club are Douglas B. Archard '62, Bruce G. Dean '31, Don G. Orchards (Paul Green), Ruth Clark Huntington '21, Dr. L. Russell McCann '62, Kathy Hopkins McGaw '72, Monahan and Loughlin (Michael Monahan), Murnane Associates (James Murnane), Elsa E. Parks Rawlins '20, Ellen Smeallie Squire '60, and Twin State Telephone Company (Charles Currier).

Presenting the plaques and date tabs, President Burke expressed his gratitude to the President's Club members, saying, "Your exceptional generosity is certainly appreciated by the students who benefit by it. It often makes the difference in whether a student can continue his college education and, on behalf of all those aided by your gifts, I thank you."

CAMPUS UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN FINISHES AT 88.5% OF GOAL

The 1983 United Way campaign on the campus has raised 88.5% of its goal through donations and pledges. Campus chairperson Clara LaRose said this week that faculty, staff, and student contributions totalled $22,022.50. LaRose commented, "We're very grateful to all those on campus who supported this year's campaign. Each gift, no matter how small, can make a significant difference to so many people in the community who need the services provided by the United Way agencies." LaRose added that contributions or pledges could still be made, and said she hoped perhaps some classified staff might still participate. "CSEA filed an unfair practice charge over the payroll deduction for the United Way," she explained, "but it has been withdrawn. Perhaps some staff members are not aware of the withdrawal, and might like to make a pledge now."

The most recent contribution to the campaign was that from the newly formed Student Nurses Association on campus. The SNA-PSUC chose the United Way as its first community service project and held a bake sale to raise money.

Christina Callahan, a freshman nursing student, presents proceeds from the SNA-PSUC bake sale to United Way campus chairperson Clara LaRose.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION OFFICE DEVELOPING PLACEMENTS FOR STUDENTS

Traffic through the Cooperative Education Office is increasing almost every day, according to Dr. Ann Hasting, the office's director. Hasting said that approximately 25-30 students each day visit the office to inquire about cooperative education placements. The office, established last fall through a five year $419,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Education, has placed over a dozen students in paid cooperative education positions this semester, but Hasting anticipates that placements for summer and fall will be more numerous. Hasting, her assistant Lorna Earl, and a part-time staff member Linda Pease, have contacted well over 200 employers, either personally or by letter or telephone, to try to sell them on the idea of making placements available to Plattsburgh students. Among those responding positively, Hasting said, are Kodak, General Dynamics, Kollmorgan, Mutual Life Insurance, and Abex Corporation. The Co-op Education office is also holding seminars for both students and faculty this semester to give them more specific information about field placement. In addition to the dozen students in paid placements, Earl said this week that about 225 students are participating in internships this semester.

HEARING AND SPEECH SCIENCE DEPARTMENT AWARDED MEMBERSHIP IN GRADUATE COUNCIL

The college's Department of Hearing and Speech Science has recently been awarded membership in the National Council of Graduate Programs in Speech and Language Pathology and Audiology. Dr. Raymond Domenico, department chairman, explained that the Council serves as the advocate organization serving the interests of those graduate educational institutions which offer programs in communicative disorders. He added that it also provides a forum for the discussion of issues and the means for disseminating the position statements on those issues from the member institutions. Domenico concluded by saying, "This membership represents another major step in the development of our graduate program, which has continually shown growth in student enrollment since its inception in 1979."

CAREER NIGHT SET FOR APRIL 13

A Career Night, sponsored by the Office of Career/Life Planning and Placement, has been scheduled for April 13 in the College Center Ballroom. Career/Life Planning Director Pat Lennahan said that he expects representatives from between 75 and 100 occupational areas to be present. Most will be available to provide information about their career, but some will be recruiting for positions with their companies.

Asked whether the number of recruiters visiting campus was increasing this semester, Lennahan responded, "It's too early to tell." He did say that 20 hospitals would be represented at Nursing Career Day on February 23, and 20 more had sent information packets. Those present were expected to talk to seniors about active openings and to sophomores and juniors about summer employment and internship opportunities.

His lecture, sponsored by the political science department, is free and open to the public.

FORENSIC TEAM TAKES THIRD AT ITHACA

The college's forensic team took third place, behind Suffolk University and Emerson College, this weekend in a eleven-team tournament at Ithaca College. Leading the team in individual events was Roger Sadler, who put together a first place in extemporaneous, second places in impromptu, informative and persuasive, and third places in rhetorical criticism and after-dinner speaking to capture the pentathlon title. Gene Thomas won the persuasive speaking category, while Mark Scheider placed fourth in prose, Jennifer Wade was fifth in dramatic interpretation, and Dan Fairchild, competing in his first tournament, placed fifth in impromptu speaking.

SPORTS UPDATE; HOCKEY TEAM PREPARES FOR ECAC'S

The Cardinal hockey team seeks its third consecutive ECAC II West championship as playoff action begins this weekend. However, the Redbirds most likely will have to win the title on the road because of an 8-6 loss to Norwich last week. Plattsburgh State came back to defeat Cortland State, 5-2. A win over Middlebury Tuesday would assure the Cards of a spot in the top four seeds in the ECAC tournament and enable them to host at least their first game.

The men's basketball team, which flirted with the .500 mark all year, dropped its last three games and finished with an 11-13 record, still a great improvement over last year's 7-18 standard. Losses to Potsdam State (74-62) and Oneonta State (81-76) put the Cards' SUNYAC record at 3-7. Hartwick beat Plattsburgh State, 77-64, in the final contest. Paul Glodis, Steve Holmes and Bill Stevens started in their last game with the Redbird cagers. Glodis netted 16 points to finish his career with 1,119 points, making him the fifth leading scorer in Plattsburgh State history. Phoebe Sturm's roundball club is hopeful of AIAW playoff consideration, although the Lady Redbirds lost to Hartwick, 90-47, last week. The women sport a 12-6 record with three games remaining.

Plattsburgh State's track and field athletes posted a number of personal bests last weekend but nevertheless lost to Albany State. The Great Danes defeated the men's team, 90.5 to 43.5. Bill Ferreri scored an impressive win in the 1500 meters. Other Card victors included Dean Diltz (800 meters), Ed McClendon (1000 meters), and Bob Brenner (3000 meters). The 4x880-yard relay team of Ferreri, Diltz, Brenner and McClendon also took first.

The Redbird track women had a closer tussle with the Danes, losing 66-50. Plattsburgh State won eight of 14 events but the greater depth of Albany enabled it to "nickle and dime" a victory from the Cards. Lady Redbird winners were Allison Field (1500 and 1000 meters), Marcy Mofte (50-meter hurdles and high jump), Amy Pagani (500 and 300 meters) and Linda Krasensky (800 meters). The 4x440-yard relay team of Charlene Fenton, Mofte, Krasensky and Pagani also won.

REVISED BUDGET PROPOSAL ELIMINATES 45.5 POSITIONS

A financial plan for 1983-84 to be submitted to the Governor by the Board of Trustees of State University would reduce the number of faculty and staff cuts for the College at Plattsburgh from 79, as proposed in the original Executive Budget, to 45.5. After receiving assurances from the Governor that the fiscal problem was a temporary one of only two or three years' duration and that he was anxious to avoid any action that would permanently damage or dismantle the University, the Board of Trustees adopted a plan that would reduce the number of positions lost in the State University System by a series of actions.

The plan proposes a restoration of some personnel by directing funds from energy savings that would result from closing building on campuses throughout the system and lower than projected fuel costs, from temporary reductions in allocations for equipment replacement and building repair, and from identification by the Central Administration of an additional $10 million in revenue.

College President Joseph C. Burke, though pleased with the proposed restoration of positions, noted that, unless the Legislature provides an additional appropriation, the College would still lose over six percent of its total staff, which would require significant reductions in academic programs and campus services. Dr. Burke also expressed concern that measures used to restore personnel were temporary and would not be available in future years. For example, the University could not afford to reduce permanently the funds provided in the original Executive Budget for equipment replacement and building repair. In addition, Burke said he feared that closing a building on the Plattsburgh campus would further disrupt the College's programs and services and that the additional $10 million to be identified by the Central Administration might force a tuition increase for undergraduates beyond that assumed in the original Executive Budget.

In order to allow the University System to submit its financial plan to the Governor by March 1, the College had to file its revised proposal with the Central Administration on February 25. The original proposal cut 34.5 teaching faculty and 44.5 non-faculty positions. The revision restores 16.5 faculty and 17 non-faculty lines. The revised proposal still includes elimination of several administrative positions and the physical education requirement and phases out physical education courses and the music major.

GORE RECEIVES GRANT TO DEVELOP SYMBOLS FOR SAFE USE OF PESTICIDES

Dr. Peter Gore, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has received, in cooperation with Dr. James Grieshop of Cornell University, a $17,000 grant to develop pictographic symbols for the safe use of pesticides in Latin America. The grant is funded by the Consortium for International Crop Protection. The project will be divided into two phases. First, the two will develop and refine their prototype symbols, and then the symbols will be field tested in up to three sites in Latin America.

Gore has recently returned from a month-long mission in El Salvador, where he and three other agricultural and rural development experts reviewed the status of that country's land reform program at the request of the U.S. Agency for International Development. Gore and his associates interviewed numerous governmental officials, then chose 28 cooperative farms to inspect. Following their visits to the co-ops, the four also visited and interviewed a number of individual landowners, who had been given title to land they had formerly rented, to determine progress in that area as well. Their report was presented to the president of El Salvador Dr. Alvaro Magana, the U.S. Ambassador to that country, Deane Hinton, and then, through AID, to Congress, for use in foreign aid hearings.

On Friday, from 10-12 a.m., Walter Pintner, Cornell University, and George Grantham, McGill University, will discuss "Economics, Business and History." That same day, from 2-4 p.m., a roundtable discussion will be held on "Problems, Techniques, and Experiences in Interdisciplinary Historical Research." The Friday sessions will take place in the Cardinal Lounge. For more information, contact Dr. Stuart Voss (564-3134).

PLANNING UNDERWAY FOR LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP

A Planning committee meeting for the annual Leadership Workshop will be held on Thursday and Friday, according to Dr. Nicholas Troisi, Dean of Professional Studies and director of the workshop. SADLER CONTINUES TO LEAD FORENSIC TEAM

Competing in the Individual Events Tournament this weekend at Mansfield State in Pennsylvania, Roger Sadler led the College forensic team to a fourth place finish in a field of 14 teams. Sadler again took the pentathlon title, combining first places in impromptu and rhetorical criticism, second in extemporaneous, third in persuasion, fourth in prose interpretation and after dinner, and fifth in dramatic interpretation. Gene Thomas won the prose interpretation category and combined with Jennifer Wade to take fourth in dramatic duo. Veronica Fitzgerald was the other team member scoring, with a fifth in impromptu.

The debate team of Debbie Angus and Greg Purello is also doing well. The pair took a second place at last week's UVM Debate Tournament, with Purello taking the second place Debate Speaker Award and Angus placing third. Purello and Angus were third this weekend at a debate tourney at Fordham University.

SPORTS UPDATE; WOMEN HOOPSTERS END BEST SEASON EVER WITH TWO MORE WINS

One down, two to go. Once again, the ECAC seeding committee has been proven a bad judge of team talent and the hockey Cardinals are in great shape in their quest for a third straight ECAC II West championship. Pete DeArmas picked up a shorthanded goal and two assists to lead the Redbird offense while Steve Knish made 25 saves in goal as the fourth-seeded Cards decked fifth-seeded Potsdam State, 5-2. Meanwhile, Middlebury, who lost 5-4 to Plattsburgh State in the regular-season finale last Tuesday, was busy upsetting the tournament's top seed. The Panthers, the number eight and final seed, dropped number one seed RIT, 5-3. Seventh-seeded North Adams State became the Redbirds' next opponent when it upset second-seeded Norwich, 5-3. Number three Oswego State dispensed with sixth-seeded Elmira, 9-3. The Cardinals host North Adams Wednesday night while Oswego entertains Middlebury. If Plattsburgh State and Oswego win, the Cards will travel to Oswego. However, if Middlebury pulls off another upset, the Cards will host the ECAC championship game Saturday night.

The women's basketball team closed out its successful season with home wins over Clarkson (79-35) and Potsdam State (58-52) last week. Phoebe Sturm's club compiled a 14-7 record, the team's best mark ever. The triumph over the Bears avenged an early season loss at Potsdam and gave the Lady Redbirds a 9-1 record in Memorial Hall.

St. Lawrence (78.5 points) and Binghamton State (56.5) defeated Plattsburgh State (39) in a men's track and field triangular meet last weekend. Rob Dickerman took first in the shot put and 35-lb. weight events. Single event Cardinal winners were Dan Gambino (55-meter hurdles), Ed McClendon (800 meters), and Bob Brenner (1000 meters). The Cardinal women finished far back in the field at the NYSIAW indoor track championships at Union. The only placers for Plattsburgh State were Amy Pagani (fifth in the 500 meters) and Alison Field (sixth in the 3000 meters).

Renee Courneene broke three Plattsburgh State records at the NYSIAW swimming championships last weekend. The Cardinal women's swim team finished 17th out of 25 schools. Courneene set school marks while finishing eighth in the 200-yard backstroke, 11th in the 100 back and 14th in the 50 back. No other Redbird finished better than 14th.

DUKEN NAMED TO SUNY TRUSTEES' EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Mrs. Judith Duken '59, the first alumna of the State University of New York to be named to the SUNY Board of Trustees, has been appointed to the Board's seven-person executive committee. The executive committee is charged with transacting official SUNY business between meetings, especially during the summer months, when the entire 16-person board does not convene.

Mrs. Duken, who also holds a master's degree (1973) and a certificate of advanced study (1976) from Plattsburgh State, is a past president of the College's Alumni Association. She served as a member of the College Council from 1972 to 1980 and as its chairperson for three years. She is a recipient of the SUNY Alumni Confederation Distinguished Alumni Service Award and the Plattsburgh State Distinguished Service Award. She and her husband, Gilbert, are members of the College Foundation's President's Club. Mrs. Duken is currently a teacher at Oak Street Elementary School.

DELUCA CHOSEN PROVINCE I LEADER OF THE YEAR

James J. DeLuca, a senior business major from Shoreham, N.Y., has been named Omicron Delta Kappa Province I Leader of the Year. DeLuca was selected over finalists from Penn State, the University of Maryland, the University of Delaware and Dickinson College. He will represent the Province, which is comprised of 20 chapters in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia, in the national ODK competition.

DeLuca has served in various leadership roles on campus, including SA Senator, SA Vice President for Student Services, Vice President of ODK, a summer orientation leader, and a resident assistant for three years. He is listed in the current edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

RETENTION NETWORK ESTABLISHED TO IMPROVE COMMUNICATION ON CAMPUS

A network of faculty and staff has been established to improve student retention on campus. Tom Moran and Dr. Ann Hasting, coordinators of the network, said the purposes of the network are threefold: first, to identify students who may be dissatisfied with their experience on campus and alert the advisors of those students; second, to assist advisors to determine and meet the needs of those students; and, third, to improve the quality of life for students and consequently increase the number of students who choose to stay enrolled to graduation.

The network consists of representatives from every department or center, staff members from many of the administrative offices on campus, all residence hall directors, and an executive committee, which includes administrative and teaching representatives.

The establishment of the Retention Network is one of the first steps called for in the college's "Plan for Improving Retention" circulated in January. The spring 1983 advisement period will be an opportunity to begin full utilization of the newly established student, faculty and staff communication links.

THIRD ATLAS PUBLISHED BY FACULTY MEMBERS

The third volume of the New York State Atlas Series, prepared by Dr. Malcolm Fairweather and Dr. Richard Beach, has been published. Fairweather explained that the volume, New York State: A Socio-Economic Atlas, contains 34 maps created by using primary data contained in the most recent New York State census, the federal census for New York State, and data available from several miscellaneous sources. The atlas is divided into three sections, economics, agriculture and social, and contains in-depth studies and comparisons as well as the raw figures.

The atlas project, said Fairweather, was begun in 1974 with his publication of The Socio-Economic Atlas of Northern New York in response to a shortage of materials available in graphic form which could be used to illustrate to students the economic, historical, agricultural and social character of New York State. Beach became involved in the project with the preparation and publication of the second volume, Agricultural Atlas of New York State, completed in 1979. A fourth volume, The Historical Agricultural Atlas of 19th Century New York State, will be published in the near future.

Fairweather added that geography students participate in the preparation of the atlas, which gives them experience in "a real world work setting." The volume is available for $10 from the geography department.

GLODIS ON ALL-SUNYAC TEAM FOR SECOND YEAR

Conference coaches again recognized the outstanding efforts of Cardinal forward Paul Glodis by naming him to the All-SUNYAC basketball team for the second consecutive year. "Goose," a 6'4", 200 lb. senior health education major, averaged 16.8 points a game in 24 games and 16.6 points in SUNYAC competition. The Card tri-captain averaged 12 rebounds a game both overall and in SUNYAC play. The Jamaica High graduate from Flushing broke the 1,000-point mark against Lyndon State earlier this season and finished with 1,119 career points, making him fifth on the college all-time scoring list.

COMMITTEE MEMBERSHIP AND CHANGES ANNOUNCED FOR GENERAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

A revision in the Integrative Component requirement of the General Education program has been announced by the Faculty Senate. According to Dr. Jerome Supple, vice president for academic affairs, a discipline may now design an integrative component for students majoring in that discipline by drawing from the major's cognate requirements and including one course from the major itself. In addition, students may now satisfy the Integrative Component requirement by completing a program of study in a foreign country, as long as it is approved by the Office of the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs.

The membership of the General Education Committee has also been announced. Members include: Dr. James Armstrong, anthropology; Marilyn Bryant, hearing and speech; Dr. Raymond Doyle, foreign language and literature; Dr. David Dustin, psychology; Dr. Carl Engelhart, English; Dr. Robert Fortner, communications; Dr. Bryan Higgins, geography; Dr. Jeanne Kissner, Canadian studies; Dr. William Klock, art; Dr. Charles List, philosophy; Dr. James Olmsted, earth sciences; Dr. Timothy Palkovic, theatre; Topsy Smalley, library; Dr. Charles Simpson, sociology; Marilyn Morton, nursing; and Dr. Daniel Stearns, computer science.

WORKSHOP SERIES DESIGNED FOR LOCAL BUSINESS COMMUNITY

A series of workshops, seminars and discussions for small businesses has been designed by the Center for Business and Economics and the Division of Continuing Education. Dr. Miles Martin, Center director, said that the Small Business Seminar Series is a direct result of an assessment of community needs performed by the College's Business Advisory Council. The first in the series "Computers in the Small Business," will be held on March 24 at Valcour Educational Center. Mary Lou Brown, president of Mountain Data Systems, will be the featured speaker. Six other speakers will discuss their personal experiences with computers, their successes and their failures.

Two other seminars are planned for this spring. "Security in the Small Business" will take place on April 13 at the Royal Savage, and "Economic Briefing," a discussion of the future impact of Reagan economic policies on the North Country, will be held on May 3. Seminars planned for the fall include "Risk Management," "Creative Tax Planning," and "Dealing with the Problem Employee."

For further information, contact the Division of Continuing Education at 564-2050.

SPORTS UPDATE

The hockey Cardinals made their fourth straight appearance in the ECAC II West championship game but failed to capture a third consecutive title. Plattsburgh State lost a 9-6 seesaw battle to Oswego State in Romney Field House despite the support of some 250 Plattsburgh students and townsfolk who made the journey to Oswego. The championship loss kept the team from advancing to the NCAA playoffs and the Cards finished with a 20-12-1 overall record and an 18-9 mark in Division II. Jean Simon Bibeau (31-20-51) led Plattsburgh State in goals and total points. Chip Grabowski (21-29-50) compiled a four-year total of 73 goals and 99 assists for 172 points, making him the second leading scorer in school history. Grabowski led the team in assists this year and was only three shy of Doug Kimura's career assists record of 102. Dave Rattray and Keith Wright, the Cards' other captains, finished in a tie for 13th place on the PSUC all-time scoring list. Rattray (7-4-11) amassed 38 goals and 41 assists for 79 points in his three years with the team while Wright scored 20 goals and 59 assists for 79 points in four years. Steve Knish was the team's number one goaltender with a 10-6-1 record and a 4.0 goals-against average. His two-year career record is 27-16-2.

While Plattsburgh State students were vacationing, some members of the indoor track and field teams were still competing as the indoor season came to a close. At the EIAW championships in Cortland, the women's squad finished 13th out of 20 teams. The Cards' top performer was Alison Field, who placed an impressive second in the 3,000-meter run. Marcy Moffe finished fifth in the 55-meter hurdles and Amy Pagani was fifth in the 800 meters. Charlene Fenton was sixth in the 300 meters. Bob Brenner was the best finisher for Plattsburgh State's men at the SUNYAC championships in Cortland. Brenner took third in the 5,000 meters as the Redbird trackmen finished seventh out of nine schools. Other placers were Bill Ferreri, fourth in the 1,000 meters, Rob Dickerman, fifth in the shot, Scott Camarra, sixth in the long jump despite a knee injury, and Dave Champagne, sixth in the 5,000. At the NYSCTFA championships in Fredonia, the PSUC men finished 18th out of 21 squads. The only placers were Dave Champagne, sixth in the 3,000 meters, and Bill Ferreri, sixth in the 1,000.

SENIORS NEEDED TO TAKE ACT COMP TESTS

In an effort to monitor the General Education program, the college has begun offering the American College Testing Comp Test to freshmen and seniors. The test measures skills and knowledge in functioning in social institutions, using science, using the arts, communicating, solving problems and clarification of values. Dr. Doug Skopp, acting vice president for academic affairs, explained that the test was given for the first time in 1982 — in April to 72 seniors and in October to 102 freshmen. Results are being used to establish baseline figures. Ultimately, Skopp says, the test will be given to seniors who took it as freshmen and will measure their progress in these areas after four years of college.

The 2¼ hour test will be offered to seniors on April 13 and 14 and volunteers are needed. Seniors willing to participate are asked to contact Skopp either at his office on the third floor of the Kehoe Building or by calling 564-2195.

INTERDISCIPLINARY COURSE WILL CONSIDER NUCLEAR WAR

An interdisciplinary course — INT 220 — "The Last Generation? Perspectives on Nuclear War" — will be offered by faculty members from five different academic departments in the fall 1983 semester. Professors James Ennis and Charles Simpson (sociology), Carol Leonard and Douglas Skopp (history), James Armstrong (anthropology), Bryan Higgins (Center for Earth and Environmental Science) and Charles List (philosophy) are combining forces because of their common concern for the peril raised to our species and planet by nuclear warfare. The course will consider the historical, political, psychological, sociological and philosophical implications of nuclear weaponry. Composed of lectures and small discussion groups, it will, it is hoped, "provide tools for thinking the unthinkable, to make it less probable." Open to all students, without prerequisites, the course is scheduled Wednesday afternoons, 2-5 p.m. Further information is available from Dr. Jim Ennis (FOB 239), coordinator of the course, or any other faculty member named above.

ANNUAL GIVING PROGRAM UNDERWAY; SHIPMAN CHAIRPERSON

Shipman

The Plattsburgh College Foundation's Annual Giving Program gets underway this week with a meeting of the program's leadership group. For the third consecutive year, Curtis E. Shipman, president of the Keeseville National Bank, will chair the major fund-raising campaign.

Shipman, the Foundation's vice president, explained that the 1983 effort encompasses the Alumni Fund Drive, Business/Corporate giving, the Friends Campaign, Library Fund and Cardinal Booster Club. Giving to last year's campaign totaled $145,601, representing an increase of 14 percent in comparison with the 1981 drive.

"Of major importance," said Shipman, "is the fact that giving enabled 325 students to share $133,000 in scholarships and grants during the 1982-83 academic year. This was made possible by the generosity of 170 businesses and corporations, 1,576 alumni and more than 200 community friends."

The annual giving chairperson emphasized that an increased effort will be required this year to raise additional funds to meet the needs of many students. Plattsburgh's undergraduates, he pointed out, face a 22 percent increase in tuition and a general increase of 11 percent overall, effective this fall. He noted that the typical budget per student to attend the College will rise from $4,450 to $5,120.

At its meeting on Tuesday the annual giving leadership group selected dates to begin and end the various campaigns, identified volunteers/solicitors and prospective campaign workers, established internal goals and mapped fund-drive strategy.

ROTARY FOUNDATION OKAYS $206,000 GRANT PROPOSAL DEVELOPED BY GORE

The Plattsburgh Rotary Club of District 704 of Rotary International has been selected to administer a grant of more than $206,000 from its parent organization in support of a program in Ecuador formulated on the basis of a proposal developed by a member of the Plattsburgh State faculty. District 704 encompasses all Rotary Clubs in northeastern New York and southern Canada.

The grant will underwrite a project designed to create a small farmer training and demonstration center in northern Ecuador over the next five years. It originated with a presentation to the Plattsburgh Rotary Club in 1979 by Dr. Peter Gore, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, on the subject of agricultural development in Ecuador. The club, through its World Services Committee, urged Gore to develop a proposal to improve agricultural conditions in that South American nation, under its sponsorship, for funding by the Rotary International Foundation in the Health, Hunger and Humanity category (the committee is chaired by Dr. Karl Kramer, professor emeritus of education). Gore received word last Wednesday that the proposal, rewritten and redesigned several times in the past three years, has been approved by the organization's board of directors.

A key phase in the project development process involved a site inspection visit to Ecuador by Gore and a representative of District 704 to determine whether it would engender support among Rotary Clubs there. The district has allocated some $1,200 in "seed money" in support of the project. Approximately 30 clubs in Ecuador wholeheartedly endorsed the proposal and subsequently agreed to provide funds of their own to help improve productivity in farming in their developing country via expanded use of new agricultural technology.

COHEN RECEIVES $38,000 NSF GRANT FOR THE STUDY OF COLONIAL MAYA

Dr. Mark Cohen, professor of anthropology, has received a grant of $38,000 from the National Science Foundation to analyze health and nutritional problems among the colonial Maya Indians who inhabited the Belize, British Honduras region during the period of the Spanish conquest. The grant will fund an eight-week site excavation this summer to be followed by an on-campus analysis of skeletal material to be carried out over a two-year period.

Two current students, Sharon Bennett of Peru, and Jeffrey Kelley of Whitehall, and Eileen Denué, a 1977 graduate of the College, will travel to British Honduras with Cohen as members of the investigation team. Bennett, a January graduate in behavioral science, continues to take courses here and will begin study towards the master of arts in liberal studies degree in the fall. Kelley is a senior anthropology major while Denué, a former anthropology major, currently teaches school in New Mexico.

Cohen said the research will focus on the effects of economic change on human health in pre-history — what happened to the health of the Maya Indians as a consequence of their colonization.

FIRST COMMENCEMENT FLYER FOCUSES ON SCHEDULE OF EVENTS, MATTERS OF DECORUM

This year, for the first time, prospective graduates and their parents will receive a flyer which outlines highlights of this spring's Commencement Weekend at the College. In addition presenting a schedule of events, including dates, times and locations of various activities, and, especially for seniors, a list of last-minute business to transact, the flyer focuses on maintenance of decorum during commencement exercises. It specifically addresses College regulations prohibiting the consumption of alcoholic beverages on Field House grounds, in parking areas and in the building, and states clearly that violators will forfeit the right to participate and/or witness the ceremony.

The flyers were produced by the Office of College Relations and are based on recommendations formulated by an all-College Commencement Committee and approved by President Joseph C. Burke. They will be distributed locally to prospective graduating seniors and, by bulk mail, to their parents within the next two weeks.

CONTROVERSIAL FILMS ON ACID RAIN, NUCLEAR WAR TO BE SHOWN HERE TOMORROW

Three films produced by the National Film Board of Canada that precipitated controversy when the U.S. Justice Department branded them as "political propaganda" will be shown tomorrow at 8 p.m. in room 200 of Yokum Communications-Lecture Hall. The films, "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery?", "Acid from Heaven" and "If You Love This Planet," have a combined running time of approximately 90 minutes. The latter, an anti-nuclear film featuring Dr. Helen Caldicott, renown as head of "Physicians for Social Responsibility," was made largely at Plattsburgh, with the help of the College's Environmental Action Committee, and has been nominated for an Academy Award.

The showing, sponsored by the American Literature Program of the College's English department and Plattsburgh's Center for the Study of Canada, is free of charge and open to all. The films caused a stir internationally in recent months when the Justice Department ruled them to be subject to the Foreign Agents Registration Act and, therefore, they must carry special labels as political propaganda when shown in the United States. The decision has been assailed widely not only in Canada but also in this country in the House of Representatives and the Senate as a violation of the Constitution.

SECOND ANNUAL ARTS FESTIVAL THEME 'THE AGE OF TRANSITION'

$10,000 GIFT ESTABLISHES WINKEL COLLECTION

A collection of works by Nina Winkel will be established on the Plattsburgh campus as a result of a gift to the College Foundation by the sculptress and her husband, George Winkel. The Winkels have contributed $10,000 to establish the collection and maintain it. A minimum of fifteen works, of which eight are currently on the campus following the Winkel-Barton exhibition, will be installed in a permanent collection. According to George Winkel, the works will be selected to form a comprehensive and harmonious representation of her life work. The selection will be on loan for the present, but will become the outright property of the college in the future. A site for the collection will be determined in the near future.

President Joseph C. Burke commented: "All of us at the College, but in particular those who most enjoy works of art of superior quality and who can grow intellectually from exposure to them, are very much indebted for this gift. It is especially pleasing that we at Plattsburgh State may now proceed with plans to establish The Winkel Collection. It will enrich significantly our institution's art resources."

Born in Germany in 1905, Nina Winkel studied sculpture at the Staedel Institute in that country and later in Paris. She came to the United States in 1942 and began a lasting affiliation with New York City's Sculpture Center of which she is president emeritus. In 1954, the Winkels moved to Keene Valley where they now reside.

Her sculpture has been shown across the country, in the Metropolitan Museum, the Whitney Museum and numerous other galleries and exhibitions. She is a Fellow of the National Sculpture Society, and has received many honors for her work, including the E. Watrous Gold Medal and the Samuel F.B. Morse Gold Medal of the National Academy of Design.

Sculptress Nina Winkel and Hodegetria (Divine Guide), one of the pieces currently on campus.

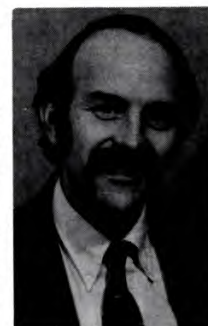

SHAFFER TO DELIVER COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, associate professor of psychology, will deliver the main address at the College's May commencement exercises. The title of his speech is "Multiple Descriptions of the World."

Shaffer was selected as the commencement speaker by the commencement committee following a survey and a vote last fall. Faculty and seniors were queried on whether there should be a speaker at the ceremony and asked for their suggestions. Both surveys showed strong support for a speaker and Shaffer was suggested by many of the respondents. The commencement committee then voted on ten possible speakers, ranking them from 1-10. Shaffer was second only to Governor Mario Cuomo, who declined the college's invitation.

Shaffer, a 1968 graduate of Plattsburgh State, earned his Ph.D. from the University of Oxford and has been a member of the faculty here since 1976. He received the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1980 and has delivered the annual welcoming speech to freshmen for the past two years. Shaffer has been awarded several grants to support research in the field of animal behavior and has written and lectured widely on that subject.

SUZANN BUCKLEY AUTHOR OF MASTER PLAN FOR NEW YORK STATE CAPITOL

The Master Plan for the New York State Capitol, a volume of recommendations to preserve the historic landmark building in Albany, was written by Plattsburgh State faculty member, Dr. Suzann Buckley. The 152-page Master Plan is the result of a three-year effort of detailed research, documentation and analysis by architects, engineers, historians, preservationists and representatives of public and private institutions. A committee to study the problem of preservation and restoration of the capitol was established by the NYS Legislature in January, 1982. Buckley spent nearly a year on the project, acting as one of the consultants and then synthesizing all of the research and recommendations to write the comprehensive report, which was recently published.

RECORD NUMBER EXPECTED TO ATTEND ANNUAL OPEN HOUSE

More than 1,000 visitors are expected on campus Saturday, April 23, for the Annual Open House for prospective students, their families and friends. David Truax, director of admissions, said this week that reservations for the event are at an all-time high and attendance is expected to break earlier records. Open House is designed to acquaint prospective students with the College, its facilities, programs and activities. The day's activities will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the College Center Ballroom with welcoming speeches by President Joseph C. Burke and SA Executive Vice President Scott Kane. The visitors will tour the campus with student tour guides during the morning and will eat lunch in one of the College's two dining halls. (Marriott's Peter Petrosian has agreed to open the Sundowner on Saturday for students in order to ease congestion in the dining halls.) Faculty members from each department and staff members from Student Affairs will be in the Blue Lounge from noon until 3 p.m. to answer questions about academic programs, housing and other aspects of campus life. Various student organizations will also be represented in the College Center that afternoon to tell prospective students about extracurricular activities. At 2:30 p.m., Truax and Campus Life Director Bill Laundry will present a half-hour program for students who have been accepted for the fall, 1983 semester. The Admissions and Financial Aid offices will be open all day and deposits for the fall semester will be accepted at the Bursar's office.

BEACH RECEIVES CHANCELLOR'S AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN PROFESSIONAL SERVICE

Dr. Richard Beach, Director of the Centers for the Study of Canada/International Education, has received the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service. Beach, who received the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1976, is the only person to have won the prestigious award in both categories. The Chancellor's Awards program, initiated in 1972, recognizes recipients for excellence of performance. Nominations are solicited by a campus selection committee from faculty, students and administrators, then submitted to a Chancellor's Advisory Committee for review. SUNY Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. makes the final selection. This year, twelve awards in this category were made.

Beach joined the Plattsburgh faculty in 1970 as an assistant professor of geography and became the first chairman of the department in 1974. He was promoted to professor in 1981, and was named Director of Canadian Studies and International Education that same year. In a nominating letter, Peter Luguri, chairman of the campus selection committee cited Beach for his "unique abilities as an administrator, teacher, published researcher, and grant writer."

We had some money to invest and, recognizing the needs on campus, decided to use it to promote the College's cause."

EMPLOYEE LAYOFFS RESCINDED; 17 POSITIONS STILL TO BE LOST

All Plattsburgh State employees who received layoff notices as a result of Governor Mario Cuomo's executive budget will soon receive notices that those layoffs have been rescinded. The final 1983-84 fiscal year budget restores those positions to the College. Assistant Vice President for Finance William Woltjen explained this week that the Governor's original executive budget would have cost the College approximately 79 positions. An alternative plan proposed by SUNY administrators would have resulted in a lesser cut of 45.5. Legislators, apparently responding to an extensive lobbying effort by SUNY students and faculty, restored those positions to the budget. However, said Woltjen, the college must still eliminate 17 positions. The good news is that this may well be accomplished through retirements and normal attrition, rather than through layoffs. The actual funding loss in personal services, said Woltjen, amounts to $247,900.

In addition, the College's budget for supplies was reduced by $78,400 and $324,500 was cut from utilities in the final state budget.

President Joseph C. Burke commented, "We are pleased that the layoffs have been rescinded, of course, and are grateful to those who helped restore the positions to the budget. The final budget, however, means a very difficult year for the College."

Programmatic changes proposed this spring in response to the budget crisis are still being considered by the administration, and will be discussed with the Faculty Senate Resources and Planning Committee.

PLATTSBURGH STATE RETAINS FORENSIC CHAMPIONSHIP

The Plattsburgh State Forensic Team retained its State Tournament Championship last weekend by outpointing (with 181) the 16 participating schools. St. John's University (157) finished second, Hofstra (138) was third, and Fordham University (109) was fourth.

The Plattsburgh squad managed to place at least one finalist in each of the nine contested events — a feat equaled by no other team at the tournament. The team effort was led by forensic captain Roger Sadler who took second place in Impromptu Speaking, After Dinner Speaking and Extemporaneous Speaking; a third in Rhetorical Criticism, and fourth in Informative Speaking and Dramatic Duo (with Jennifer Wade). Tracy O'Brien won the state championship in Persuasive Speaking (Plattsburgh State has won this particular title nine years in a row) and finished fifth in After Dinner Speaking and Poetry Interpretation. Jennifer Wade finished fourth and fifth in Dramatic Duo (with Gene Thomas and Sadler) as well as fifth in Prose Interpretation. Mark Schneider took a third in Informative Speaking, Johanna Eckelman placed fifth in Prose Interpretation, Gene Thomas finished fifth in Dramatic Duo, Veronica Fitzgerald took third in Rhetorical Criticism, and Debbie Pacyna finished third in Persuasive Speaking. Roger Sadler won a second place pentathlon award for his effort.

This is the fourth consecutive state tournament championship for the Plattsburgh team and its eighth during the past 13 years. The team is in Illinois this week competing for honors at the national championships.

A computer programming contest for high school students will be held on campus Sunday, jointly sponsored by the computer science department, the student chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery, and the Computer Club. Teams of two high school students will compete to solve four problems, said Julius Archibald, department chairperson, including a mathematics problem, a science-oriented program, a business-oriented problem, and one problem involving the concepts of string handling. Winners will be determined on the basis of accuracy and speed and will receive certificates. As of Tuesday, twelve teams had registered for the contest, representing Peru, Beekmantown, AuSable Valley, Northern Adirondack, Franklin Academy, Schroon Lake, and Elizabethtown-Lewis.

SPEAKER'S FORUM TO SPONSOR LECTURE BY ABBIE HOFFMAN

The Student Association Speaker's Forum has invited Abbie Hoffman to lecture on campus on April 26. Hoffman will speak at 8 p.m. in Hawkins Hall. Hoffman, referred to as "America's leading dissident" came to public attention in the 1960's when he was a founder and leader of the Youth International Party (the Yippies) and was one of the defendants in the conspiracy trial of the Chicago Seven. Arrested in 1973 on a drug charge, Hoffman went underground, surfacing recently in a small town on the St. Lawrence River, where he had conducted a campaign opposing a project which would have had an untoward effect on that region. Hoffman served a year in jail and was released last spring. He has written seven books, the latest being Square Dancing in the Ice Age. Tickets for Hoffman's lecture are $1, and admission is open only to SA members.

ALUMNUS CREATES $10,000 ENDOWMENT FUND FOR STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

Mrs. Ruth Clark Huntington, a 1921 graduate of Plattsburgh Normal School, has donated $10,000 to the College Foundation through the Annual Alumni Fund Campaign. With the gift, Mrs. Huntington created an endowment fund, with the principal to be maintained in perpetuity, and the interest to be used for scholarships to undergraduate students at Plattsburgh State. Curt Shipman, chairman of the Foundation's Annual Giving Program, accepted the check gratefully, and said, "This gift is an indication of the very strong commitment alumni have for this institution and of their growing concern for the needs of undergraduate students."

CENTER FOR STUDY OF CANADA RECEIVES U.S. DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION GRANT

The Center for the Study of Canada has received a two-year grant from the U.S. Department of Education in consortium with the Canadian Studies programs at the University of Vermont and the University of Maine at Orono. This is the first time the Center has received funding from U.S. government sources. The purpose of the grant proposal, according to Center Director Richard Beach, was to establish a National Resource Center for Canadian Studies. Each of the three programs will receive funding individually, but the overall venture will be a cooperative one. Beach said that the funding awarded to Plattsburgh for the first year of the grant period totals $20,000, and added that he anticipates that the budget submission for the second year will be larger. Money has been earmarked for several projects within the Canadian Studies program, including staff assistance, faculty travel, library acquisitions and cultural activities.

According to Beach, the UVM-Maine-Plattsburgh proposal was one of only two Canadian Studies Resource Centers funded in the country. Duke University received the other grant. Beach was especially pleased to receive the first-ever funding from the U.S. government, adding that within the last 12 months, the Center has been awarded grants from the Government of Canada, the Province of Quebec, the Business Fund for Canadian Studies in the U.S., the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, and several large private Canadian corporations.

BUSINESS/CORPORATE CAMPAIGN GETS UNDERWAY; MOWRY CHAIRPERSON

The Plattsburgh College Foundation's 1983 Business/Corporate campaign got underway on Tuesday. About 50 volunteers from the community are assisting in the campaign. For the first time, eight students are also participating.

Harry E. Mowry, vice president of the Bindery Systems Division of the Harris Corporation, will serve for the third consecutive year as chairperson of the drive. Under Mowry's leadership the business/corporate program has shown remarkable success, going from $32,049 in 1980 to $64,380 in 1982. Last year's drive ended with a 30 per cent increase over the previous year, when 63 first-time donors were added to the honor roll.

Assisting Mowry with this year's campaign are Mrs. Anne Brandell of Bay View Dairy, Clifford Calongne, a vice president at Northern Insuring Agency, Richard Cronin, president of ERA Cronin Realty, and Mrs. Barbara Murray of Champlain Valley Electric Supply. Each heads a team of about 12 workers; every worker has been asked to contact four or five businesses between now and June 30th, the date when the campaign formally ends.

NURSING FACULTY MEMBERS AUTHOR MAJOR TEXT

Five current and former members of the Plattsburgh State nursing faculty are the primary authors of a major new textbook titled Clinical Pharmacology and Nursing Management. They are Roberta Todd Spencer, associate professor; Lynn Wemett Nichols, associate professor; Helen Pianta Waterhouse, assistant professor, all currently on the faculty; and former faculty members Frances M. West and Esther Graber-Bankert. The 1,000+ page textbook, published by J.B. Lippincott Company, is described by the publisher as "an innovative student-oriented text . . . (which) translates the physiology, chemistry and physics of pharmacology into nursing actions." The text includes subjects not handled in depth in most other pharmacology books, such as ethno-pharmacology, behavioral responses of client and nurse and how they influence the effects of medication, drugs affecting the reproductive system and sexuality, the role of the nurse in drug assessment in the home, alternatives to drug therapy, and iatrogenic conditions arising from drug therapy.

LARGEST CROWD IN HISTORY OF OPEN HOUSE PRODUCES RECORD NUMBER OF DEPOSITS

A crowd estimated at more than 1,300 prospective students and families attended the spring Open House on Saturday, and 65 of those students paid their deposits for next fall during the day's activities. Admissions Director David Truax said, "That was the largest number of deposits ever received at an Open House, and we anticipate that up to 300 more will arrive this week." Asked to evaluate the Open House program, the visitors gave it high marks, and commented on the friendliness of everyone on campus. They commended tour guides for their knowledge of the campus and their presentations; they indicated that faculty members were very helpful; and they commented favorably on the appearance of the campus. Nearly 400 students volunteered to serve as tour guides, building guides, parking lot attendants, and in other capacities during the day. For the first time this year, Student Association organizations were on hand to discuss extracurricular activities with the visitors and they, too, received many compliments from their audience.

MORE THAN 400 EXPECTED TO ATTEND CHANCELLOR'S DINNER

More than 400 persons are expected to attend the ninth in a series of Chancellor's Report Dinners on the Plattsburgh State campus on Tuesday, May 3. Chancellor Clifton R. Wharton, Jr. will present a report on the state of the University. The dinners, designed to bring community leaders up to date on significant developments within the 64-campus system, are regional. The Plattsburgh dinner, for example, will involve both Clinton and North Country Community Colleges, in addition to the College at Plattsburgh.

JURIED STUDENT ART SHOW OPENS IN MYERS GALLERY

One hundred twenty-nine art works by Plattsburgh State students are now on exhibit in the Myers Gallery in the "Spring 1983 Juried Student Exhibition." Edward Colker, Dean of Visual Arts at SUNY Purchase and a noted printmaker, served as juror for the exhibition and selected the works from over 400 entries. Awards of merit were made in several categories. They included: jewelry — Dorothy Tucker and Veronica Lynn Day; ceramics — Jonathan Millman and Beth Shaffer; sculpture — France Boutin and Michael Kane; photography — Karen Norton and Janet E. Foss; painting — Diana Formisano and Heather Evans; and works on paper — Rennie Fenwick, Cynthia Katinas, Lisa Toubertaris, and Jill Gussman. The Cardinal women ran third (32 points) behind the University of Rochester (93) and RIT (45). The PSUC men were fourth (29 points) behind Rochester (85), RIT (54½) and St. Lawrence (52½). Event winners for the women were Maureen McCoy in the 5,000 meters (a track record of 18:40.5), Alison Field in the 3,000 (an outdoor and track record of 10:48.7), and Charlene Fenton in the 400. Rob Dickerman set a school mark in the hammer throw (39.3 meters) and Dan Gambino tied his record in the 110-yard high hurdles (15.8 seconds). This Saturday's Cardinal Classic is the only outdoor meet at Plattsburgh State this season. Teams expected to compete include Norwich, Marist, and the Laval Track Club.

Three Cardinal ice hockey players were honored by the State University of New York Athletic Conference last week. Centerman Jean Simon Bibeau of Montreal was selected as a forward to the All-SUNYAC first team. Steve Knish of Scarborough, Ont. and Keith Wright of Fairfield, N.J. were named to the conference second team. Knish was the goaltending choice and Wright was one of two defensemen selected.

MEAL PLAN TO COST MORE IN 1983-84

Students eating in the Plattsburgh dining halls will pay more next year, it was announced this week by College Auxiliary Services. Stan Supinski, CAS Director, said that the 19-meal plan, which costs subscribers $1,128 this year, will cost $1,246 next fall, an increase of $118. Likewise, the 12-meal plan will increase in cost from $1,034 to $1,140. Supinski pointed out that the cost of the meal plans at Plattsburgh is currently $32 below the average cost at other SUNY units and added that he expects that comparison will remain true next fall, following increases on other campuses.

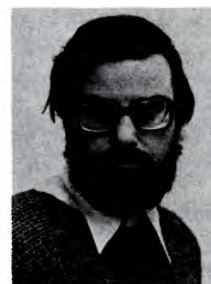

Supinski explained that the rate increases have been reviewed and accepted by the Dining Advisory Committee, which is comprised of students and representatives of the college food service and the administration. He said that several factors led to the increase, including a hefty increase in utility charges assessed by SUNY Central and a substantial increase in the participation rate (number of meals each student actually eats). Also figured into the increases was the cost of keeping the Sundowner open for dinner during the week. The facility was kept open this year on an experimental basis and received overwhelming acceptance and use.

Supinski said that several alternatives were considered as means of keeping the increases down, such as eliminating steak nights or discontinuing the availability of fresh fruits and juices at all meals, but the DAC advised against them. Supinski said, "I realize that no one is in favor of increases, but we feel we have one of the best educational food service programs anywhere, and we hope to continue that high quality program while remaining at a cost consistent with that at other SUNY units."

GLODIS AND PHILBROOK NAMED ATHLETES OF YEAR

Seniors Paul Glodis and Mary Lou Philbrook were named "athletes of the year" at Plattsburgh State at the inaugural Sports Night Banquet and Recognition Program held Sunday.

Glodis, a health education major from Queens, played four years of varsity basketball, earning all New York State and all SUNY Conference first-team honors in each of the past two years and finishing his career as fifth among Plattsburgh State's all-time scorers (1,119 points). Philbrook, a food and nutrition major from Fultonville, was a stellar performer for three years for the women's Cardinal soccer team and was the undisputed field leader, while playing a variety of positions, on the squad which last fall compiled the best record (12-3-1) in the history of the sport at Plattsburgh.

Plattsburgh's athletes of the year were cited for their "leadership, sportsmanship, school spirit and consistent superior performance in athletic competition" and for their "aptitude and perseverance in academic pursuits." Both Glodis and Philbrook received a framed certificate and an engraved wristwatch from the Cardinal Booster Club. That organization, in cooperation with the College's Alumni Association and its Intercollegiate Athletic Board, sponsored the banquet program.

All Cardinal athletes were recognized during the proceedings, and 41 graduating seniors were presented with engraved pewter mugs, courtesy of the Booster Club. In addition, two non-Plattsburgh State athletes received special awards. Robert M. Garrow, a 1952 graduate of the College, school administrator and North Country civic and government leader, was presented with the Booster Club's "Award of Honor".

George Layman, manager of the College Store, received an award presented jointly by the College's physical education department and the Student Association citing his "extraordinary support" of the intercollegiate athletic program.

CENTER FOR STUDY OF CANADA RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP GRANT

The Center for the Study of Canada has received, through the College Foundation, the largest grant ever received from a private corporation. Imasco Ltd., a Canadian corporation, has accepted a three-year grant proposal in the amount of $9,750. The grant will fund scholarships for Canadian Studies students, as well as several other Canadian-oriented activities on campus. Dr. Richard Beach, Center director, said, "This year we included an endowment component in the proposal, so we will have funds available to sustain on an annual basis our many Canadian Studies activities and also to gradually build up an endowment. We will be able to use the interest from the endowment to fund new and ongoing projects in the future. We hope to encourage other Canadian corporations to add to the endowment."

FINANCIAL AID OFFICE ANNOUNCES BUDGET PLAN, EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

Plattsburgh State students should find it easier to pay their Bursar bills this coming August and December if the planning efforts of the Financial Aid Office pay off.

Financial Aid has enlisted the services of American Management Services of Rhode Island to offer a long-term monthly budget plan to parents for the payment of tuition, fees, and on-campus room and board. For a $40 fee, AMS will collect monthly payments from parents from June through March and, in turn, forward a lump sum payment to the Plattsburgh Bursar. This alternate method of payment should be especially appealing to parents who find it easier and more convenient to make monthly payments over a long period of time to pay for a big budget item.

Last month, brochures describing the program were mailed to all students with less than one hundred credits on their transcripts and to newly accepted freshmen and transfers.

A second program getting off the ground this summer will be a coordinated employment service. Financial Aid, with the assistance and cooperation of Cooperative Education and Career/Life Planning and Placement, will advertise all on-campus part-time jobs in one convenient location. The service is now in the planning stages with information gathering on all jobs planned for this summer. Opportunities in Temporary Service, Research Foundation, Marriott Corporation, and Campus Life will be publicized with job requirements listed. Phase two of the project will entail an active search for off-campus part-time employment. The current plan calls for a graduate student to be employed on a part-time basis to administer this phase under the guidance of Co-op Education and Career/Life Planning and Placement.

CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES STUDENT AWARDS

The Chemistry Department has announced its annual awards to outstanding students. Lisa Priebe received the American Chemical Society Award for the Outstanding Senior Chemist, which carries with it a $50 cash award. FEINBERG LIBRARY TO REINSTATE NO FOOD, DRINK OR SMOKING IN LIBRARY

Because of increasing litter and conversation in the library, the Feinberg Library plans to reinstate and enforce the No Food and Drink policy immediately following the end of this term. The policy, which has been flexibly interpreted in the last year, will not be enforced until after finals week.

The rationale for returning to a strict interpretation includes custodial problems, preservation of collections and the physical plant and perhaps most important, establishing and reinforcing an atmosphere conducive to study and scholarship.

Summer clients and new and returning members of the college community may expect a quieter and tidier library due to this policy. Smoking will be permitted only in the lobby areas outside the Circulation Desk and Reserve/LOC room and in designated areas of the Late Night Study. While food and non-alcoholic beverages may be consumed in these areas, the library will encourage patrons to use eating areas in the College Center.

DR. LIU NAMED DEAN OF ARTS AND SCIENCE

Dr. Hounq Liu, acting dean of arts and science for the past year, has been officially appointed to the position, President Joseph C. Burke announced Tuesday. The appointment of Liu culminated a lengthy search by a campus committee which evaluated the credentials of 92 candidates.

Announcing the appointment, Burke said, "Liu has shown himself to be an excellent administrator and has worked with energy, sensitivity, and creativity in very difficult times at the College. He represents the best of Plattsburgh's traditions and is also capable of leading the arts and science faculty in new directions." Burke commended the search committee for their efforts in attracting so many highly qualified candidates, and thanked them for the many long hours put into the task of recommending a final group of candidates.

Vice President for Academic Affairs Jerome Supple also praised Liu, saying, "I am very pleased to have Liu as dean. The final three candidates were all excellent and the decision was a difficult one. Our choice of Liu recognizes the excellent job he has done as acting dean and in his previous positions here." Supple also complimented the search committee on a "superb job."

Liu received a bachelor's degree from Taiwan Provincial College, a master's degree from North Dakota State University and a doctorate from Cornell. He was appointed to the biology faculty at Plattsburgh State in 1969, following a year as an NIH Special Research Fellow at the U.S National Institute of Health at Marquette University. Liu chaired the biology department from 1970-74, and again from 1975-82. During the 1974-75 academic year, he was a visiting geneticist in the department of biology at Brookhaven National Laboratory. Liu served as acting dean during the fall, 1981 semester and was named again to that position following the resignation of Dr. Charles Warren. Liu's appointment will be effective July 1.

APPROXIMATELY 1,050 TO RECEIVE DEGREES ON SUNDAY

Approximately 1,050 students will receive bachelor's or master's degrees or certificates of advanced studies during the 93rd annual spring commencement exercises Sunday afternoon. The ceremony will begin at 1 p.m. (a half hour earlier than previous commencements) at the Field House.

President Joseph Burke will preside at the commencement and confer degrees. Candidates for degrees will be presented by Dr. Jerome Supple, vice president for academic affairs, and Louis Wolfe, chairperson of the College Council, will award diplomas.

Rev. Daniel Keefe, pastor of John XXIII College Community for 14 years, will receive the Distinguished Service Award and Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center for the Study of Canada will be recognized for receiving the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service. Dr. Lary Shaffer, associate professor of psychology, will deliver the commencement address.

Ten students will graduate summa cum laude (with highest honors). They are Christian Ambrosini, Wappingers Falls, psychology; Jane R. Cerrotti, Plattsburgh, English; Lynne Taylor Cloupe, Merrill, art; Susan Geri Franciose, New Hartford, speech and hearing science; Jennifer L. Horn, Bound Brook, N.J., behavioral science; Stephen M. Krieg, Falconer, microbiology; Dennis P. Mescall, Depew, sociology; Wendy Nasutowicz, Ticonderoga, elementary education; Ann Marie O'Hanlon, Monroe, psychology; and Catherine Elizabeth Tracy, Ballston Spa, psychology.

SHAFFER TO RECEIVE DISTINGUISHED ALUMNUS AWARD

Dr. Lary Shaffer, associate professor of psychology, has been chosen by President Burke and the Alumni Association to receive the 1983 Distinguished Alumnus Award. Shaffer, the first faculty member to be invited to deliver the commencement address, is also the first faculty member to receive the award. A 1968 graduate of the College, Shaffer received his doctorate from Oxford University, then returned to his alma mater to teach. He received the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1980 and has delivered the welcoming address to freshmen for the past two years.

This is the third year that the Distinguished Alumnus Award has been presented. Earlier award recipients were Dr. Robert Allen, president and chairman of the Board of Human Resources Institute of Morristown, N.J., and Bruce Dean, retired county judge, Tompkins County.

Thomas Moran, assistant vice president for student affairs, wrote the grant proposal, submitted it through the president's office, and will administer the project. The modules cover such topics as "Defining Roles and Responsibilities," "Defining Goals and Objectives," and "Managing Change." The grant will also supply funds for HEMI consultants to conduct workshops on the campus. The training materials will be available for all interested faculty and staff.

ADMISSIONS DEPOSITS AT 80% OF GOAL FOR FALL SEMESTER

Admissions deposits have been received from 1,495 new students for the fall semester, Admissions Director David Truax said Tuesday. Truax said that deposits have been received from 1,009 incoming freshmen and 449 transfer students. The total number is 80% of the goal of 1,814 new students. Truax explained that the number of deposits from transfer students is running ahead of the previous five years, but deposits from incoming freshmen are slightly, although not significantly, behind last year. The overall application rate has dropped approximately 5%, Truax said, which is almost exactly what the decrease of high school graduates has been in the 12 major feeder counties. Enrollment targets have been reached in accounting, computer science, nursing, and special education, he added.

NURSING GRADUATES TO BE HONORED AT CONVOCATION AND BANQUET

Pins will be presented to 63 graduates of the College's nursing department in the traditional pinning ceremony, part of the annual Nursing Convocation on Saturday. The ceremony will be held in Hawkins Hall auditorium and will begin at 1 p.m. Nurse practitioner Francesca Hartnett will deliver the main address. Hartnett is president-elect of the local chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, the honorary society for nurses. Deborah Steislinger, president of the nursing class of 1983 will also speak. Ruth Donaho and Alice Champagne of the nursing department, will conduct the pin presentation. A banquet honoring the members of the graduating class will be held at the Surrey Lounge at 5:30 p.m.

BEAUTIFICATION COMMITTEE CONTINUES EFFORTS BOTH INSIDE AND OUT

The College's beautification committee has continued its efforts to make the campus more attractive both indoors and outside. Derek Allan, chairperson of the committee, said this week that despite financial hard times, beautification projects have progressed, thanks to contributions from the Alumni Association, the Faculty Association, and the College Auxiliary Services.

"Although the small amount of money we have curtails the number of things we can do," Allan said, "we have taken some steps to do some things that do not cost too much." He explained that the flower beds will be filled this summer with annuals grown from seeds in the campus greenhouse, with the help of various students, Dr. Donald Bogucki and Dr. Gerhard Gruending. Daui Woodin, who chairs the planting committee, has solicited perennials from faculty and staff ("who have been much more than generous," according to Allan), and is installing them in the median strip in front of Hawkins Hall. Allan and Mike Walsh have planted nearly 100 small trees provided by the College of Environmental Science and Forestry at Syracuse.

Indoors, Allan continued, "an example of small financial investment combined with student and faculty interest can be seen in the anthropology section of FOB." Dr. Gordon Pollard and senior Jeff Kelly painted murals on the corridor walls earlier this spring and are now doing another mural in one of the anthropology classrooms.

Allan reminded interested faculty and staff members that a planting bee will be held within the next few weeks. Volunteers may contact Daui Woodin.

NEW FOUNDATION SCHOLARS CHOSEN

Nine incoming freshmen have been selected as Foundation Scholars. The nine were chosen on the basis of academic merit to receive full tuition scholarships.

The new Foundation Scholars join a group of 15 other Foundation Scholars already on campus. The high level of qualification previously established is maintained by the new Foundation Scholars. Their mean high school average is 95.64; and their mean combined SAT score is 1289.

The new Foundation Scholars and their areas of primary interest are: Paul Cioni, computer science; Jame Machung, English; Markella Miller, undeclared; Michael Shaver, secondary education mathematics; Kim Maiwald, nursing; Lisa Rogers, elementary education; John Boyle, accounting; Kim Russell, special education; Andrea Meldrum, psychology.

CENTER FOR ART, MUSIC AND THEATRE TO PRESENT 'OLIVER' AND 'HELLO, DOLLY' THIS SUMMER

"Oliver" and "Hello, Dolly" will be presented this summer by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, Dr. Charles Kline announced this week. Auditions for the two musical productions will be held on May 12 and 13 at 6:30 p.m. in the Hartman Theatre and are open to anyone interested in participating. People are also needed to assist with sets, costumes, and the production in general.

OPENING WEEK COMMITTEE PLANS ACTIVITIES FOR FALL

A wide range of activities has been planned to welcome students and faculty to campus next fall, according to Rich Mole, chairperson of the Opening Week Committee. Mole said the committee has finalized the schedule, which includes some new events this year, including a tree planting ceremony by the Class of 1987. Another new activity will be dinner with faculty members. Faculty members willing to host one or more students for dinner on Thursday, September 2 should contact Dr. Doug Skopp, acting associate vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. Lary Shaffer will again address new students, exhibitions of works by faculty and alumni will be on display in the campus galleries, several coffeehouses featuring local and on-campus talent will be held in the Sundowner, and the Champlain Trio will give a special performance. Movies, soccer games, special presentations of Tuesday Reflections and the Women's Studies Forum are also on the schedule, as well as several receptions. Activities will begin on Sunday, August 28 when the dormitories open and new students arrive, and will continue through Sunday, September 4, culminating with an All College Picnic for faculty, staff, students and families. The complete schedule will be distributed in June.

Dr. Gordon Pollard and senior Jeff Kelly put the finishing touches on one of murals in the FOB corridor.

COLLEGE COUNCIL TO MEET BEFORE COMMENCEMENT

The Plattsburgh College Council will meet at 10 a.m. on Sunday, May 15 in the College Center Cardinal Lounge. Agenda items include an update on the 1983-84 budget, the search for a Dean of Arts and Science, and efforts of a SUNY campus regarding over-regulation (The Binghamton Plan.).

SPORTS UPDATE

The Plattsburgh State men's track team finished sixth in last Saturday's SUNYAC Championships won by host Fredonia. Strong winds hindered all competitors but Bob Brenner still toyed with the field in the 10,000-meter run, winning the event in 33:03.75. Brenner was the only individual winner for the Cards. Other placers were Thor Van Diver (second, 5,000), Eric Day (sixth, 5,000), Dean Diltz (third, steeplechase), Bill Ferreri (third, 1,500), and Wilfredo Christian (fourth, 110-meter hurdles). Amy Pagani led the Lady Redbirds to an 11th-place finish in the state AIAW Division III Championships in Rochester. Pagani set a PSUC record in the 800 meters (2:19.5) and finished second. Alison Field (fifth, 3,000) and Charlene Fenton (sixth, 100 meters) also scored points.

SUMMER TO BE BUSY ON CAMPUS

In addition to the regular summer sessions at Plattsburgh State, a number of special workshops have been planned for the summer months on campus. More than 100 high school students from Clinton, Essex and Franklin counties will spend six weeks here through the Upward Bound Program. The SUNY Personnel Officers' Association will meet from June 8-10. From June 10-12, the College will host the "Sweet Adelines College of Musical Knowledge," a special seminar for barbershop singers. That session will culminate in a concert on the evening of June 11.

Scientists and economists from around the country and from Europe will be involved in "Acid Deposition: Environmental and Economic Impacts," a conference also scheduled for July 10-12.

Senior citizens may take advantage of two Elderhostel Workshops in late June and mid-July. Also in mid-July will be the Second Annual Eclectic Not Electric Acoustic Music Contest and Festival, which will include a contest, master classes, a contra and square dance and a concert.

Teachers and educational administrators will convene on campus from July 25 - August 5 for the Twenty-Seventh Leadership Workshop. Area elementary and high school athletes will be on campus for hockey and basketball camps, and figure skaters will train in the College field house for several weeks.

This is the last issue of Weekly for this academic year. Publication will resume in the fall.
